CHRISTMAS TREE GROWERS MEET AUG. 12, 13

With the Gettysburg Battlefield offered as a "before or after" bonus attraction, the Pennsylvania State Christmas Tree Growers' Association will hold its tenth annual, two-day summer meeting in Adams, Cumberland and Franklin Counties next week.

More than 200 growers from Pennsylvania and a number from New York, New Jersey and Ohio will come to this section for the field trip and business meeting at the invitation of Secretary-Treasurer Fred S. Strathmeyer, York. M. C. Stewart, Homer City, R. 2, is state president.

Growers who can come a day early will meet Thursday, August 11, at 6 p.m. at the Wellsville school, south of Dillsburg, for a visit to Strathmeyers' nurseries.

The regular itinerary will begin Friday morning, August 12, at 9:30 o'clock at the Strathmeyers' Hunter's Run farm where they will see a variety of species of trees growing under different soil and cultural conditions. A luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. by the ladies of the Mt. Holly Springs Methodist Church.

To Visit Nursery
In the afternoon the growers will drive to Mont Alto and visit the state Forest Trees nursery for information on tree seeds collection and the processing of conifer seeds. They will also inspect the seedling and transplant beds.

From Mont Alto they will go to Chambersburg where the second annual banquet will be held in the social hall of King Street United Brethren Church at 6:30 p.m. The speaker will be Maurice K. Godard, state secretary of Forests and Waters.

On Saturday morning the group will meet at Strathmeyers' Arendtsville farm where a wide range of Christmas tree production practices and results of insecticide shearing techniques will be seen. At noon the growers will go to Bendersville where the ladies of the Lutheran Church will serve a 12:30 p.m. luncheon in the community hall.

The afternoon session will follow at Bendersville. It will include a business session and L. H. Bull, deputy secretary of the state department of agriculture, will speak on "Christmas Trees as a Farm Crop."

An extension entomologist from Pennsylvania State University will discuss "New and Improved Insecticides and Their Value." There will be a discussion led by a panel of experts with Vice President John O. Chambers of Norristown as the panel moderator.

MANY JOIN IN REC CONTESTS

Thirty youngsters entered the Bubble Gum Contest and 12 the Freckle Face Contest both of which were held at the Recreation Field Tuesday evening.

Four prizes were awarded for the largest bubble: Boys over 10, Ronald Doakes, 6 1/2 in.; girls over 10, Peg Gastley, 5 1/2 in.; boys under 10, Phil Johnson, 3 3/4 in.; girls under 10, Jessica Wansel, 2 1/2 in.

Prizes for the first bubble blown went to: Boys over 10, Richard Cullison; girls over 10, Anna Oyster; boys under 10, Phil Johnson; and girls under 10, Melinda Kessel.

In the Freckle Face Contest, the winners were: Reddest, Virginia Wise; largest freckles, George Meyers; fewest freckles, Carol Codori; most on nose, Teresa Miller; lightest, Larry Miller; largest one on end of nose, Daniel Strassbaugh; most freckles, Nancy Strassbaugh.

PLAN MOONLIGHT CRUISE

Plans for a possible moonlight cruise were discussed at the weekly meeting of the Exchange Club held Tuesday evening at Hemlock Inn. All interested members were asked to notify President John J. Slenz. Routine business was transacted.

PAYS FINE AND COSTS

Oliver E. MacCollum, Williamsport, was fined $5 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore this morning. He had been arrested Tuesday evening on York St.

FILES DIVORCE ACTION

Herbert S. Kennedy, New Oxford, R. 2, filed a divorce action Tuesday in the prothonotary's office against Louette Spicer Kennedy, of that address, on grounds of indignities to person. The complaint states that the couple was married in June, 1932, and lived together until February, 1955.

House Approves Road Measure

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rapid improvement of U. S. 30, the east-west highway that slices through southern Pennsylvania, is urged in a House-passed resolution.

The resolution, sponsored by seven Democrats and passed by the voice vote yesterday, urges the Highways Department to rush plans for widening, straightening and the complete renovation of the road.

Eventual object of the improvements would be a four-lane toll-free highway through the state. At present the highway is two, three and four lanes wide.

BETA SIGMA PHI ACTIVITIES FOR YEAR PLANNED

The Epsilon Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi made plans for a number of activities—including resumption next year of the annual Easter egg hunt—at a picnic meeting held Tuesday evening at the National Museum Grove.

Among plans discussed were for the annual fall fashion show, to be held tentatively in October; for the annual Valentine Dance held to raise funds for the Adams County Free Library building fund, and for the annual fall "rushing" for new members.

The group also voted to resume the annual Easter egg hunt for children of the community. This spring, believing that most youngsters have sufficient activities at Easter, the organization abandoned its Easter egg hunt, after several years of operation of such an event. Instead the group provided a more extensive Easter celebration for the children of several needy families.

Reports at Tuesday's meeting showed that a great number of youngsters had been disappointed because the egg hunt was not held, and as a result of the popular decision shown, the group decided to resume the event.

The president, Mrs. Donald Becker, presided at the meeting. Next session of the group will be held August 16 in the form of a picnic supper at a site to be announced.

Countian's Car In Hanover Crash

Richard H. Fitzgerald, 33, Cheltenham, was arrested for leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity after his car collided with a vehicle parked in the 200-block Baltimore St., Hanover, Monday about 10 p.m. Police said he was apprehended on Frederick St., Hanover.

The information was filed before Justice of the Peace William Y. Naill Jr., Hanover. Damage to Fitzgerald's car were estimated at $20 and to the parked car, owned by John R. Meisenhalter, Gardner, at $35.

YOUTHS GOING TO PURDUE U.

Two young Adams County farmers are planning to attend the summer sessions of the American Institute of Cooperation at Purdue University from next Monday through Thursday. They are Theodore Stough, New Oxford, R. 1, and Ted L. Crouse, Gettysburg, R. 1.

Accompanying them on the trip to Lafayette, Ind., will be Elmer H. Schriver, Gettysburg vocational agriculture teacher. The trip is being sponsored by Adams County Farm Bureau.

Lester M. Shughart, Bolling Springs, Farm Bureau district manager, said the youths were selected on a competitive basis which included written reports of their knowledge of farmer cooperatives. Shughart said more than 1,000 FFA and 4-H club members, including 109 from Pennsylvania, will attend the sessions of the AIC, the educational agency of the nation's farmer cooperatives.

He said the Adams County boys will leave Harrisburg by chartered bus at 7 a.m. Saturday. Forty-one persons from nine Central Pennsylvania counties will make the trip. In the afternoon of August 6, the group will stop at Alliance, Ohio, to inspect the paint, insecticide and farm chemical plants of United Cooperatives, Inc.

Before returning to Harrisburg on August 13, the group will travel to Reading, Ohio, near Cincinnati, to inspect Cooperative Mills, Inc., one of the nation's five largest feed mills, owned jointly by Pennsylvania Farm Bureau and three other regional cooperatives.

CANADIANS SEE FIELD

Dr. L. T. White and Erick Jorgensen, both from the forestry pathological laboratory at Maple, Ontario, were taken over the Battleground Monday by S. G. Sollenberger, assistant superintendent. Mr. Jorgensen is a Dane.

MRS. HARTZELL DIES SUDDENLY THIS MORNING

Mrs. Ida Louise Hartzell, 80, wife of Mahlon P. Hartzell, 46 E. Lincoln Ave., died suddenly at her home at 8:30 o'clock this morning from a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. Hartzell, who was in her usual health this morning, ate breakfast and went to the living room where she sat down and was stricken immediately.

A daughter of the late Jacob F. Bream and Harriet Ogden Bream.

MRS. M. P. HARTZELL

the deceased was born in Cumberland Township and resided most of her life in Gettysburg.

She was a member of St. James Lutheran Church, Woman's League of Gettysburg College and an active member of the Woman's Missionary Society of the church.

Funeral On Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Hartzell would have been married 54 years next month.

The deceased is survived by her husband, three children, Mildred H. Hartzell, at home; Louise B. Hartzell, instructor in English Department at Penn State University, and Mahlon P. Jr., Gettysburg; three sisters: Mrs. Henry Manken, Sykesville, Md.; Mrs. Robert B. Diehl, Gettysburg; and Miss Nellie Bream, Philadelphia, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the Bender Funeral Home, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in the Evergreen Cemetery. The Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh will officiate.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening after 7 o'clock.

BENDERSVILLE FIRE CARNIVAL EVENTS LISTED

Bendersville firemen were hoping for a record turnout Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights for the annual carnival held at the Bendersville community hall.

Special music is scheduled for each night of the festival, with The Tones, an instrumental and vocal outfit, to present the entertainment Thursday night. Friday night the Blue and Gray Band of Gettysburg will be featured and Saturday night the Bigerville High School band will provide the music.

For the period of the festival the Apple Bowl, Bendersville's sports area established by the firemen a number of years ago, will be used for parking.

Hot chicken platters and other special dinners will be served each evening from 5 to 8 o'clock, and refreshments will be offered for sale throughout the entire period of the carnival.

Funds raised by the carnival will go into the maintenance fund for the fire company which not only operates the fire protection for the community, but such community activities as the Apple Bowl and a picnic and playground area near the Community Hall.

JUDGE TO SPEAK

Judge W. C. Sheely will be the principal speaker Saturday afternoon at the Annual Day observance at the Milton Wright Memorial Home, near Greencastle. It will be the first affair of the sort since the annual custom was dropped during World War II. The home is supported by the Pennsylvania Conference of the United Brethren Church. Since the church's acquisition of the Piney Mountain Home for the Aged, Milton Wright will be devoted to the care of children.

BOYS "SERIOUS"

Donald Haas, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Haas, New Oxford, R. 2, and Harold Weaver, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Weaver, Gettysburg, R. 4, were reported at the Warner Hospital today as still in a "serious" condition. The two youths were injured shortly before noon Tuesday when the bicycle they were riding and a truck collided near Five Points.

Little Relief In Sight As Mercury Soars To 102 Here

The temperature soared to a new high of 102 degrees here Tuesday as August went about setting some records of its own after the hottest July in local weather annals.

This afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the official reading was a shade above 95 degrees indicating the possibility of another 100-degree day today.

Tuesday's high was the hottest day so far this year; the hottest day here since September 3, 1953, when the maximum was 103 degrees; the hottest August day since 1930 and the hottest August 2 in local weather records that date from 1903.

The highest reading taken here in 1954 was a 101 on July 31.

NEW YORK (AP)—The temperature was slightly lower in the scorched Northeast today, but it remained "mostly fair, hot and humid," with little relief in sight.

The New York City Weather Bureau expected the temperature to reach the low 90s today and tomorrow, and continued "hot and humid" through Saturday.

Record In New York

New England got the best break. Last evening cool air from Canada moved in, and high temperatures for today were not expected to go above the middle 80s. The humidity will be "pleasantly low," the bureau predicted.

Update New York was expecting temperatures in the 90s in western portions and in the 80s in the east. A few thunderstorms were forecast but there was still no sign of enough rain to end the drought plaguing farmers in the central part of the state.

Crop damage was estimated to run into millions of dollars, and a number of New York counties have asked the governor to declare them drought areas so they will be eligible for federal aid.

In the Adirondacks fires burned off sections of dry forest land.

Mother, 43, Has Her 22nd Child

A 43-year-old Thurmont, Md., mother, Mrs. Clarence Andrew, gave birth to her 22nd child, her ninth daughter, Tuesday afternoon at 4:33 o'clock at the Warner Hospital. Eighteen of the children are alive. Four died in infancy, including one set of twins.

Three of the children, Mrs. Elizabeth Stambaugh, 28; Mary Brown, 24, and Edward, 23, are married. Mrs. Brown has one boy. The other Andrew children live at the family farm, Thurmont, R. 2.

The father, Clarence Andrew, is a farmer and carpenter who has resided in Thurmont for the last 15 years. Before that the family lived in Emmitsburg.

The children living at home are: Martin, 21; Rose, 20; George, 18; Anna, 17; Ruth, 16; Sarah, 15; James, 14; Donald, 13; Barbara, 12; Daniel, 11; Paul, 10; Eugene, 9; Harriet, 6, and Franklin, 3.

Dr. Charles R. Williams, Emmitsburg, is the family physician.

Two Are Injured In Tuesday Crash

A 70-year-old New York man and his wife were injured Tuesday evening at 5:25 o'clock in a two-car collision 6 1/2 miles east of here on the Lincoln Highway.

State police said Joseph Ziegler, Forest Park, N. Y., was driving west when he attempted a left-hand turn and his car was struck by an east bound vehicle operated by William H. Putsch, 30, Pittsburg.

Mr. Ziegler suffered a contusion of the forehead. His wife, Charlotte, 67, had a bruised right shoulder. They were brought to the Warner Hospital for treatment in the ambulance.

Police estimated damage to the Ziegler car at $300 and to the Putsch vehicle at $500.

Lawyer Slain; Judge And Two Others Shot In Carlisle Court Room Tragedy; Slayer Is Held

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—A gun-toting defendant in a wife support case was held on a murder charge today in a bizarre shooting that turned a courtroom into a death chamber—the second time this has happened in the state in the past 18 months.

Percy Haines, 60, of nearby Newville, R. 2, yelling he got "a raw deal," whipped out a pistol and fired four times at end of his court hearing yesterday, killing three others, including the presiding judge.

John D. Faller Jr., 41, Carlisle, associate counsel for Haines' ex-wife, Lulu, 60, in the non-support action, was shot in the chest and died in Carlisle Hospital a short time later.

May Save Arm

Judge Mark E. Garber, 58, was struck in the left arm, Mrs. Haines in the abdomen and George Black, 50, Chambersburg attorney associated with Faller, in the left arm. Judge Garber was shot in the left arm above the elbow. The shot severed a main artery in his arm and splintered a section of Weather Bureau predicted.

In New York City, where the temperature yesterday hit a record for the summer of 97.5, the forecast for today read: "Not quite as hot and less humid." A high of around 90 was predicted for today.

In Pennsylvania the weather was expected to be one to five degrees cooler than yesterday but still miserable. Highs ranging from 92 to 96 were forecast.

Yesterday Lancaster, Pa., reported an official reading of 103, the hottest day in the past 19 years and third hottest in the city's history. Philadelphia's high was 98.

Crop Damage High

For Washington a high of 94 degrees was forecast—better than yesterday's 98, but still mighty warm. Humidity was expected to be less.

Update New York was expecting temperatures in the 90s in western portions and in the 80s in the east. A few thunderstorms were forecast but there was still no sign of enough rain to end the drought plaguing farmers in the central part of the state.

Crop damage was estimated to run into millions of dollars, and a number of New York counties have asked the governor to declare them drought areas so they will be eligible for federal aid.

In the Adirondacks fires burned off sections of dry forest land.

SIX MILLION BU. APPLE CROP IN STATE FORECAST

A crop of 6,000,000 bushels of apples from Pennsylvania commercial orchards was forecast in initial estimates by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service, state Department of Agriculture.

If this amount is realized the 1955 crop will compare with last year's harvest of 6,020,000 bushels and the 10-year 1944-53 average of 6,008,000 bushels, the department said.

Also based on July surveys, the Pennsylvania peach crop is estimated at 2,320,000 bushels, 230,000 under last year, but 131,000 better than average.

Large Cherry Crop

There was no change from June 1 year forecast of 175,000 bushels, 10,000 under 1954 production.

The July estimate for red sour cherries at 11,000 tons equals the all-time record set in 1951. Last year's production was 9,500 tons with the 10-year average at 7,100 tons.

Reporting on the apple situation the department said that in the Adams-Franklin-York fruit belt the prospects are nearly as good as last year. Set was generally good on all varieties, but Stayman and York probably will not bear as heavy as in 1954, the survey showed. The crop is clean and growing well. Early June rains were sufficient to aid normal growth. There was some heat damage June 11 and 12. Hot weather of early July caused some sun scald on a few varieties.

In the Berks-Lehigh area prospects for Apples are good but declined somewhat following hail damage of late May and early June. Damage to fruit in a few orchards ran as much as 100 per cent, it was said. Fruit is sizing nicely.

Apple prospects in the northwest are reported to be better than last year.

Hospital Bids To Be Opened August 31st

Bids on the first proposed addition to the Warner Hospital will be opened Wednesday, August 31, it was announced by Walter B. Dillon, hospital administrator, in a talk before the Gettysburg Kiwanis Club Tuesday evening at the American Legion home on Baltimore St.

Mr. Dillon told of the current building fund campaign which has brought in about $216,000 to date and described the general organization and operation of the hospital.

Vice President Paul Fox presided at the meeting. The club ordered 100 extra license plate frames in the project that is being conducted as a hospital benefit effort. Next week's meeting will be held at the VFW home on E. Middle St.

Clerical Error Is Cause Of Action

A clerical error has led to an action in assumption being filed Tuesday in the office of the prothonotary. The Loudoun County Livestock Market, Inc., filed the suit for $112.20 plus interest against John W. Eyer, R. 1.

Market officials stated that on Sept. 6, 1954, Eyer purchased some livestock, and the bill presented to him was for $2,890, which he paid. It was later discovered that, through the error of one of the market's clerks, the price of one cow, $112.20, had not been included in the figures.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Admissions: Mrs. Walter Kendall, Egg Harbor City, N. J.; Larry Bere, Littlestown, R. 1; Thomas Hess, Taneytown, R. 1; Mrs. Jacob Hahn, Middleburg, Md.; Roy W. Myers, Greencastle, R. 3; Mrs. Clarence Andrew, Thurmont, R. 2; Russell Harbaugh, Fairfield, R. 1; Mrs. Harry Lambert, Westminster, R. 6.

Discharges: Betty Ann Myers, Fairfield; Mrs. Ora Boone and infant daughter, Orrtanna, R. 1; Mrs. Joseph T. Spangler, York St.; Mrs. George Leiley, Littlestown; Mrs. James Strickhouse, 150 N. Stratton St.; infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Orner, Bendersville; Mrs. John Brice, Thurmont, R. 1; Mrs. Homer Tyler, Emmitsburg, R. 1 and Mrs. Richard Veltroide and infant daughter, Taneytown, R. 2.

SOUTH MT. FAIR ASKS DONATIONS FOR NEW SEATS

The South Mountain Fair Association has inaugurated a financial campaign.

The Association is sending letters to a number of persons in the county asking donations toward payment of the theater type seats placed in the auditorium.

The following self-explanatory letter was mailed by Harry McDannell, Biglerville, secretary of the South Mountain Community and Fair Association:

"The purpose of this letter is twofold.

"First of all, we wish to advise that the South Mountain Fair will be held this year from September 6 to 10, inclusive. The various Committees have been working diligently to make this year's Fair one of the finest we have ever held.

"Secondly, we would like to ask your support in a project that we consider most worthy.

Ask $5 Donations

In 1948, when the Memorial Auditorium was erected at the Fair Grounds, the most economical type of seats available were the wood slats bolted to iron frames. While these slat type seats served the purpose, they were intended to be used only until something better could be installed. During the past year the Fair Association had the opportunity to purchase used theater seats and those of you who have tried them will agree that they are a decided improvement.

"Now, here is where your help is needed in a worthwhile community project. If you can see your way clear to send a contribution of $5 to the Fair Association, it will be considered as paying for two chairs. — But don't stop reading — To each person who sends in $5, the Fair Association will mail two season tickets for the entertainment that will be presented in the auditorium during Fair Week. Based on last year's single admission price, these tickets are worth $3 each.

"This, we feel, is a very liberal offer and we assure you that your favorable consideration will be greatly appreciated."

Paradise Twp. Merger Plan Up To Voters

Paradise Twp., York County, currently a member of Adams County Coneyago Joint School District, will merge with the Dover Jointure this fall, according to action taken Tuesday evening at a meeting of the jointure in Dover.

Paradise, East Berlin, Reading Twp., Abbottstown and Coneyago Independent school districts, all members of the Coneyago Jointure, have been discussing plans for future developments for some time—since the state turned down the Coneyago jointure as too small and approved a proposed plan in which Coneyago, North Adams and Lower Adams Jointures would form two new joint districts.

The state Department of Public Instruction also objected to inclusion of Paradise Twp., which borders on the East Berlin-Abbottstown area, in the Adams County school plans because it is a part of York County, despite the fact that its children have for many years attended Adams County Schools to a large extent.

Going Before Voters

Thus the action Tuesday night in which Dover borough, Dover and Washington Twp., and Paradise Twp., agreed to place a merger vote on the ballot at November's election was one of a series of moves in connection with the changes taking place in the school setup in that section of Adams and York Counties.

Reading Twp. had earlier asked for inclusion on the jointure level with North Adams, Abbottstown and Paradise Twp., which has been discussed jointure with Lower Adams.

It could not be determined this morning exactly what effect approval of the merger by the voters will have on Paradise's partnership in the Coneyago jointure—or when it will be felt.

It was presumed that a merger approval would automatically remove Paradise from Coneyago jointure and that the action would have its effect as of next June.

Neither county Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle nor Assistant County Superintendent C. P. Keefer could be reached for comment today. Both are attending the 33rd annual principals' conference being held for 500 school administrators throughout the state at Pennsylvania State University this week. They expect to return to their office here Friday morning.

Cubbers Planning Picnic On Aug. 25

Plans for a family picnic August 25 at 6 p.m. at the former CCC camp on W. Confederate Ave. were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Committee and Den mothers and fathers of Cub Pack 78 held at Xavier Hall.

James Sheerling was named as chairman for the picnic. Three den chiefs to be selected from Boy Scout Troop 78 will be introduced at the picnic. The Den Mothers, it was announced, will call the parents of the members on food arrangements for the affair.

The committee expressed its appreciation to Conte Brothers for the use of the Horse 'N' Buggy Museum, Harrisburg Rd., for the pack meeting held recently with Julian Estep in charge.

HAN DIS INJURED

Russell Harbaugh, Fairfield, R. 1, was admitted to the Warner Hospital as a patient Tuesday after he had suffered a severed tendon when his hand was caught in a saw while he was working at the home of Annie Richardson, Fairfield, R. 1.

GILBERT REUNION AUG. 21

The Gilbert reunion will be held on Sunday, August 21, at Willow Mill Park, near Hagerstown, off U. S. 11, between Harrisburg and Carlisle. Pavilion No. 6 has been reserved.

84TH CONGRESS GOT MUCH WORK DONE IN SESSION

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first session of the 84th Congress saw a good bit of work done. Some of the hottest issues were spiked in advance of adjournment early today but others no less controversial were hurried.

Some of the major legislation that cleared Congress during the seven-month session:

Foreign — One of the hottest fights came on President Eisenhower's call for new authority to cut tariffs. With Democrats supplying the majority of his support, the President got most of what he asked. This included a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade law.

The foreign aid program was allocated $2,755,000,000 for the coming year, 560 millions below Eisenhower's request. The cut was partially offset by unspent funds made available from previous appropriations.

Voted Authority — Congress took a hand too in second foreign policy. As tensions mounted in the Formosa Strait, it voted Eisenhower authority to wage war if necessary to keep Nationalist-held Formosa out of Red China's hands.

Military — Another battle involved Eisenhower's plan for a fourfold increase in the trained military reserves during the next five years. This program finally was approved last week, though lacking some important features wanted by the President. The bill contained one major innovation — provision for young volunteers to serve less time on active duty (no more than six months) in return for longer service in the reserves.

Congress also voted a four-year extension of the regular draft and added two years to the life of the doctor-dentist draft.

Money — Appropriations during the session totaled $53,200,000,000 — some $1,800,000,000 less than the White House recommended. Authorization also was given for outlay of an additional $6,800,000,000 — most of this to pay interest charges on the national debt. The temporary debt ceiling of 281 billions was extended for another year. It would have dropped otherwise to 275 billions.

Pay Increases — Pay — Just about everyone working for the government got pay increases — including the lawmakers themselves. Substantial boosts were voted for civil service workers, postal employees, federal judges, career servicemen and — just last night — many of those who work for Congress.

Some of the biggest increases went to the lawmakers. Their pay was hiked from $15,000 a year to $22,500, plus last-minute boosts in such "fringe benefits" as postage allowances.

Housing — Continuation of the various federal housing programs was approved. A compromise bill that cleared Congress yesterday also provides for 45,000 public housing units during the next year. The House originally had balked at any public housing. Eisenhower asked for 70,000 units in two years.

Minimum Wage — Congress voted for a $1-an-hour minimum wage for workers in interstate commerce. Eisenhower had recommended that the 75-cent minimum set in 1949 be boosted to 90 cents.

Taxes Extended — Taxes — Corporation and wartime excise taxes were extended. Rates were left unchanged.

Treaties — The Senate ratified three major treaties: a mutual assistance pact with Nationalist China on Formosa, a treaty bringing West Germany into the North Atlantic defense alliance and another establishing Austrian independence. These did not require House action.

U.N. Secretary And Ambassadors Meet

By MAX HARELSON
GENEVA (AP) — Dag Hammarskjöld, secretary general of the United Nations, held separate meetings today with U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Red China's Ambassador Wang Pingnan.

The two ambassadors are talking privately here on steps to ease Far Eastern tension. The talks were in recess today while both sides awaited instructions from their capitals on the question of repatriating civilians who want to return home.

None of the parties concerned would discuss the nature of the Hammarskjöld talks.

The next meeting between Johnson and Wang will be held tomorrow morning.

24 HELP CLEAN SCOUT CAMP

In spite of the hot weather 24 adults and children were on hand to continue work on the site of the Girl Scout camp near Fairfield Tuesday evening.

The volunteers were: R. Thomas Adams, chairman; Mrs. J. Clair Routsong, Mrs. Elton Kessel, Mrs. Gordon Webster, Mrs. Kenneth Hull, Nicky Nichols, Levere Hamme, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Brown and Mrs. M. J. Nichols, all of Gettysburg; Mr. and Mrs. T. Rhey, Benderville; Mrs. William Neely, Fairfield; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Donahar, Biglerville; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Arter, Littlestown.

Girl Scouts present were: Marilyn Routsong, Eileen Ziegler, Suzanne Bollinger, Sue Carol Neely, Dorothy Neely, Doris Hamme and Leslie Webster.

Because the Scouts will go to camp next week at Conewago no plans were made for the next clean-up. The date will be announced later.

Red Fighter Planes Shot Israeli Craft

LONDON (AP) — Communist Bulgaria admitted today that two of her fighter planes shot down an Israeli aircraft last Wednesday.

It said it would "discover and punish those responsible for the catastrophe."

All 55 persons aboard the airliner, including 12 Americans, were killed. The plane, which had gotten off course, crashed just north of the Bulgarian-Greek border.

Previously the Bulgarians had said Red anti-aircraft guns downed the airliner and promised partial payment for the million-dollar plane. But the Israeli Foreign Ministry said Monday that Israeli investigators who inspected the wreckage saw "numerous bullet holes" and gained "the definite impression" that they came from machine-gun fire.

The Bulgarian Telegraph Agency made the government's announcement today. It was broadcast by Sofia radio.

Worker Killed On Turnpike Extension
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — One of the Philadelphia was killed yesterday and another workman injured when dynamite exploded on the northeast extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike near suburban Lansdale.

Leon Alaman, 23, Philadelphia, was treated for a right leg fracture and cuts at North Penn Hospital, Lansdale.

State police said the two men were drilling holes for blasting when they apparently struck a charge that had failed to explode earlier.

SECOND PASTOR TO FACE TRIAL FOR HERESY

MILWAUKEE, (AP) — A United Lutheran pastor is to stand formal church trial for heresy in the 60-year history of the Northwest Synod — the second in six weeks — faces a trial board of fellow clergymen later this month.

The Rev. John Gerberding, 33, of Monomonee Falls is accused of doctrinal deviation similar to that for which his friend, the Rev. George Crist Jr. of Durham, another Milwaukee area community pastor, was tried and convicted last week.

Pastor Crist was suspended from his church duties yesterday by Dr. Paul E. Bishop of Minneapolis, president of the synod, who thus followed the recommendation of the trial committee.

Is Vacationing
The 31-year-old Durham minister is vacationing with his wife and three daughters and has not yet what he plans to do between now and next May, when the synodical conference will review his case and decide on punishment. This may range from a rebuke to dismissal from the Lutheran ministry.

However, at the end of his trial, Pastor Crist indicated he might return to school and later seek a philosophy teaching post.

WILL EXPLORE OUTER SPACE

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced today she will explore the earth's upper atmosphere with high altitude rockets.

Until recently known Western research in the field has been done exclusively by American scientists. But the British announcement added that a similar program also has been started in France.

Britain's high-altitude rockets will be distinct from the small earth satellite which the United States announced last week it planned to send into outer space to revolve about the earth for scientific observations.

The British program, to be carried out by the Ministry of Supply, aims at developing within two years rockets capable of carrying 100 pounds of scientific instruments up to heights of 120 miles or more.

The Royal Society, Britain's leading scientists, said since the United States first sent instruments into the upper air in 1946 with captured German V2 rockets, "steady progress has been made and many interesting results have been obtained. The greatest height reached so far has been 240 miles."

Rev. and Mrs. Mahlon Clarke, Pastor of Fibor's Lutheran Church, McKnightstown, are on a two weeks vacation through the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bream and children, Gardeners R. 1, and Mr. Bream's mother, Mrs. Earnest R. Bream, Gardeners, are on a motor trip to Niagara Falls.

A donation of $700 was given to the Arendtsville Fire Company by the auxiliary at a meeting Tuesday evening at the South Mountain Fairgrounds. The money will be used to purchase new fire hose.

Tickets for the electric appliance awards to be made the last night of the fair can be purchased from auxiliary members. Proceeds will be used to help purchase a new fire truck.

The evening closed with a wiener roast. There were 45 members present.

An imaginary food sale will be held next fall by the Biglerville Garden Club instead of holding a regular food sale as previously planned. Each member is asked to contribute her share in cash to any of the following members of the Ways and Means committee before or at the November meeting: Mrs. Willis Weigle, chairman, Miss Alma Miller or Mrs. Clair Shillito.

Fourteen scouts and explorers from Troop and Post 76, Gardeners, are among the approximately 200 scouts and explorers from the York-Adams area scout council attending the sixth week of summer camp at Camp Tuckahoe, near Dillsburg. The scouts are: Wayne Arnsberger, Kenneth Fetters, Robert Kline, Richard Lauver, Frederick Naylor, Laurin Slaybaugh, Harold Slusser, Fred Starner, Rodney Starner, Donald Wright and Russell Yeagy. The explorers are: James Kuhn, Rodney Weidner and Jay Zeigler and Donald Kline, assistant scoutmaster of the troop.

Parents and friends of the scouts and explorers are urged to visit the camp Saturday afternoon and evening. There will be a special program Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock including an order of the arrow ceremony for scouts and explorers voted into the fraternity during the week. The order of the arrow is an honorary camping fraternity of the Boy Scouts of America.

The women of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Biglerville, are invited to meet with the Women's Missionary Society for its regular meeting Friday evening in the social room of the church at 8 o'clock. FARMERS HOLD PICNIC MONDAY

Farmers are doing a "far better job of producing than of selling," G. A. Biggs, McConnellsburg R. D., president of the Pennsylvania Farmers Association told 150 gathered Monday evening at the South Mountain Fairgrounds for the annual picnic of the Adams County Farmers Association.

Urging "a better job of selling and a better job of public relations," Biggs told the group that "agriculture is the greatest industry in the world. It does such a good job of production that we have surpluses in almost everything. Production in American agriculture is at the 80 per cent efficiency level and that level is higher than the efficiency level of most industries."

He claimed "the solution to our problems lies not in what we can get others to do for us, but what we can do for ourselves through our own organizations. We must be strong enough morally to do what we feel is right, not just follow the path of easy non-resistance. We have been guilty in the past of talking one way and voting another when it came to such things as parity payments and controls on wheat."

Ray Hagenbush, field man for the organization; President Melvin Worley; John Woods, Gettysburg R. D., chairman of the policy committee; Myles Starner, Aspers, head of the membership committee and Robert Loti, Aspers R. D. head of the nominating committee, were among those who spoke. Mrs. Allen Bollinger, Hanover R. D., entertained the group with accordion numbers.

NAUGLE GOING TO CONFERENCE

Adams County Assistant Farm Agent John Naugle has been named a member of the registration committee for the fourth annual International Farm Youth Exchange conference held this week at Michigan State University in East Lansing, Mich. The appointment was made by Burton Olson, national IFYE conference chairman from Westby, Wis.

Naugle was an IFYE to Switzerland in 1954 where he lived and worked with farm families for five months. The IFYE program is a means of building a stronger foundation of understanding for world peace. There have been about 500 IFYE exchanges with the United States since the program began in 1948, Olson said.

Two hundred IFYE alumni from nearly every state in the union are expected to attend along with 95 foreign IFYE exchanges in the United States from 26 other countries. This is the mid-point meeting for the foreign exchangees. They have spent three months living with farm families in one state and will now move to their second host state.

Alumni and foreign exchangees, including four youths from India was spent the last three months with Adams County families, will discuss their observations of the American way of life and look for the "why" of the American way. George Stabler of the school of Sociology and Anthropology at Michigan State University will direct the discussions.

Present Musicales Thursday Evening

A musicale, sponsored by the Christian Endeavor Society, will be held in the tabernacle at Mt. Olivet Camp grounds Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The camp is about one mile north of Dillsburg. A program will be presented. A get-acquainted social will follow the service.

Services will be held by the society nightly at 6:30 o'clock in the tabernacle from August 7 through August 14.

The speakers will be: August 7, Kenneth Stough; August 8, Jack Cassell; August 9, Rodger Irwin; August 10, Herman Smith; August 11, Rev. Joseph Smith; August 12, business meeting; August 13, young people's special program; August 14, Prof. Jacob Kuhns.

A number of singers will take part in the program.

"YOUR WONDERFUL SMILE"

If ever a flower could be half as fair . . . as the wonderful smile on your face . . . I'd plant me a garden to comfort me when . . . I yearned for your gentle embrace . . . I'd cultivate gladness in one special spot . . . and seeds of contentment I'd sow . . . then I'd nurture them with tenderness . . . to make the sweet flowers grow . . . there would be red roses to fashion your lips . . . and bluebells to mimic your eyes . . . and lilies for loveliness that you possess . . . a kind godly nature supplies . . . my garden would never be thirsty for rain . . . but always be blissful with dew . . . for I would supply all the kindness it takes . . . to give it a beautiful hue . . . but somehow I know flowers never could be . . . as fair or one half as worthwhile . . . so I am content to light memory lane . . . with the glow of your wonderful smile.

Ousted Accountant
Sues For $500,000

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Edgar N. Noel, dismissed chief accountant for the Thermol Co., says he has been defamed by the company's board chairman and asks $500,000 punitive and compensatory damages.

Noel, of (151 Riverview Ave.), Yardley, Pa., made his charges against Frederic E. Schluter, Thermol's board chairman, in an independent answer to a stockholder's suit. The million dollar stockholder's suit accuses five Thermol officials and employees, including Schluter and Noel, of juggling the firm's books to avoid federal taxes.

Noel, in his answer filed yesterday, charged Schluter defamed him by telling other directors that Noel was responsible for the juggling. The accountant said he did manipulate records, but on orders from his superiors.

Noel asked for dismissal of the suit against him and asked that Thermol pay his legal expenses.

Company apparatus; Taneytown American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps; Gettysburg Fire Company Drill Team; antique cars driven by Clarence R. Reck and Walter F. Crouse; mounted riders.

The parade rules forbid drilling in the line of march and also the sounding of sirens. All musical organizations will be eligible for prizes. The winners will be announced at 10 p.m. on the night of the parade on the carnival grounds.

Parade prizes being offered this year are: Best uniformed fire company or department in line with 25 or more men, with musical accompaniment, $75, with a second prize of $50; best appearing uniformed fire company or department with less than 25 men and with or without music, $25; best appearing uniformed organization other than a fire company with less than 25 men, with or without music, $25; best appearing Ladies' Auxiliary, $35, second prize of $25; best appearing band, $60, second prize of $40 and third, $20; best appearing drum corps, $60, second, $40 and third, $20; best appearing fire apparatus, $15.

JAYCEES GO ON OUTING MONDAY

An outing was held in conjunction with the first August meeting of the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening at Crouse's Pool, near town. A picnic lunch was served. Swimming was enjoyed and activities were in charge of the recreation committee, L. Robert Snyder, chairman.

Marvin F. Breighner, president, requested that the Jaycees report on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the high school building on Maple Ave., to paint the steps to the Ground Observer Corps tower, located on top the high school. Preliminary plans were made for the members to attend a ball game on a future date. Details will be arranged later.

An outing for the Jaycees and their families will be held on Monday, Aug. 15. The place for the affair and other arrangements are in charge of a committee consisting of L. Robert Snyder and volunteers. The Carroll Adams Riding Club will stage its second annual horse show on Sunday, September 4, at the newly purchased club grounds, along the Menges Mill Road, near town. The rain date for the affair is Monday, September 6. Plans for the horse show will be furthered at the regular monthly meeting of the club on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Gives Cornea
To Blind Man

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An unknown benefactor has helped a 39-year-old man gain a chance for sight in his blind right eye.

A man from Harrisburg had his eye removed there Monday night after doctors found a tumor between the eye and the brain. The man, who declined use of his name, said he wanted the cornea, which was not damaged in any way, used to benefit someone who had lost the sight of one eye.

Officials of Wills Eye Hospital here were notified. And they selected the top name on the list of those waiting for cornea transplants and called the patient, also unnamed, to the hospital.

The Harrisburg man's eye was flown to Philadelphia with the help of the Red Cross and the operation performed yesterday. The patient had lost the use of his own cornea as the result of an ulcerative condition caused by a virus.

USAF Drill Team
To Perform Friday

The United States Air Force Drill Team, from Bolling Field, Washington, D. C., which was featured on Ed Sullivan's TV show "Toast of the Town" last Sunday evening, will favor Littlestown by appearing in the Alpha Fire Company parade on Friday at 7 p.m. The unit will do spot drilling during the parade. Later that evening at 9 o'clock, the Drill Team will perform precision drills and intricate movements on the community playground.

The Air Force Times describes this organization as "The World's Best Drill Team." The all volunteer unit of officers and airmen has put the Air Force's best foot forward in numerous top level ceremonies, including occasions when the President greeted the Queen of England and her husband, King Paul and Queen Frederika, President Celal Bayer of Turkey and the presidents of other foreign countries. Last year millions of people across the nation got a first hand look at the men as they performed in Kansas City, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and New York and they also partici-

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Health Expert Finds Lar of Mosquito In Rock Creek Strife:
War for the extermination of mosquitoes, said by many Gettysburgians to be more numerous and more aggressive
this summer than at any time in recent years, has been declared by the Chamber of Commerce.

At the request of Henry M. Scharf, secretary of the commerce organization, Dr. L. L. Williams Jr., medical officer in charge of malaria investigations of the United States public health service, spent Thursday and Friday in Gettysburg, tracking the mosquito to its lair, holding conferences with local medical authorities and others.

In the course of a thorough investigation of the breeding places of the mosquitoes, Doctor Williams said the "stingers" were multiplying in unusually large numbers in a two mile stretch of Rock Creek between Gettysburg's sewage disposal plant and the Baltimore "pike. With one scoop of a small dipper, the investigator took between 5,000 and 8,000 mosquito larvae from the stream. "This is an unprecedented number of larvae to be taken from a stream this size," Dr. Williams said.

Gettysburg Feels Pinch From Water Lack As Creek Level Goes Below Intake: Gettysburg today felt the pinch of a water famine with the town's largest industries closed down and housewives omitting the customary Monday laundrying.

Meanwhile officials of the Gettysburg water company had well drillers cleaning out two small wells near the reservoir on Baltimore hill preparatory to connecting pumps with them later in the day. At a Sunday morning conference of representatives of the state department of health, the Chamber of Commerce, the local industries and the water company, it was decided to prohibit the use of water for laundrying and any other purpose than household use until further notice.

At the same time representatives of local industries agreed to close down their plants until the water situation improves. Pumps at the pumping station were able to keep the reservoir full by intermittent pumping. Each time the pumps would operate for a period of time the level of the water in the stream would fall below the intake pipe, and the pumps had to shut down.

Later today three wells are expected to be put in operation which are expected to provide the town with approximately half of its water needs.

Night Patrol To Protect Town Against Fires: Aroused by the water crisis in Gettysburg, council took action at a special meeting this morning to frame a formal complaint against the water company with the public service commission and to guard against the menace of fires within the borough. Councilmen voted unanimously to pay for the services of six firemen every night, until the present crisis passes, to be on duty here from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m. Three of the firemen will remain at the engine house ready to take out the apparatus at the first sound of an alarm while the other three are to serve as a night patrol of the community to cover the streets and alleys each night on the lookout for the first inkling of a fire in order to check the blaze at its inception.

Amos 'N' Andy Stay On Job: New York (AP) — Amos 'N' Andy are to be on the job another year. Today's Talk

AN INWARD GOD

From the Greeks come these two words "en theos" — meaning an inward God. From this we have our inspiring word — enthusiasm. So it may be said that anyone full of enthusiasm carries an inward God about with him. Is it any wonder that enthusiastic persons get along, and inspire others to put enthusiasm into their work?

When work is a joy and a pleasure, and you feel you are contributing to the happiness and profit of others, you work with enthusiasm. Someone has said that nothing great or worth while was ever accomplished without enthusiasm. By being enthusiastic you compel others to believe in you and to trust you. The enthusiastic salesman, for example, sells himself before he sells his product; whether he sells or not, he leaves a trail of trust and admiration behind that will not be forgotten.

If you cannot enthuse about your work, then you had better hunt out some work about which you can be enthusiastic. People take us at our face value, as the expression goes. Our enthusiasm is an introduction to what we are and what we represent. An "inward God" is deep in our heart, and we are His representative.

I believe in hero worship. The great doers of the world put their soul into what they did, sacrificing even their physical strength, but their enthusiasm for the causes they represented never wavered. Such men and women live for us today, and will always live for every generation that unfolds.

With what pride and joy we can look into the light of each new day, and into the face of all whom we may contact, and say, with the consciousness of the voice of our inner God speaking through us, I am enthusiastic because I'm mastered by the best that I am and have to give.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Deeds We Owe"

Just Folks

FLATTERY
That I was looking very well
The salesman told me:
Then something that he had to sell
He kindly sold me.
I had for what he offered me
No need at all for.
But still a bit of flattery
I still fall for.

I like to hear a word of praise,
Though I may doubt it.
It helps me through these troubled days
To think about it.
The man who gives a smile to me
Won't always mean it.
But happier I seem to be
When I have seen it.

'Tis said that flattery will get
A fellow nowhere
But where I get it, you can bet
Again I'll go there.
For salesmen this one rule's enough
For them to follow:
Be pleasant, flattery's the stuff
Most men will swallow.

Free On Cow Theft, Charge Bull Stolen

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Two local men acquitted of stealing a cow may be tried on a charge of stealing a bull—the same animal, says the Florida Supreme Court. It ruled they would not be in double jeopardy. The decision reversed one by Judge William T. Harvey of Duval County Criminal Court.

On March 1, Harvey freed James Bentley and Matthew Rivers of a charge of cow stealing when evidence disclosed the animal was a male. Asst. County Solicitor Waldo Stockton then filed a new information identifying the animal as a bull. Judge Harvey threw this out on grounds of double jeopardy and the solicitor's office appealed.

Train Runs Over Child; She's Safe

MASON CITY, Iowa (AP)—Twenty-month-old Sandra Kay Shropshire toddled onto railroad tracks near her home yesterday in the path of an oncoming freight. The train knocked her down and the locomotive and six cars passed over her before it stopped. She was not touched by the wheels, however. She escaped with a brain concussion and cuts and bruises. Her condition was described as good at a hospital.

DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM FACES SENATE BATTLE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader's industrial development program moved into the Senate toward an uncertain future today following its approval by the House on a strict party line vote.

The series of five bills, calling for an expenditure of 26½ million dollars in the next two years to attract new industry to Pennsylvania, was opposed by Republicans at every step during passage by the Democratic-controlled House yesterday.

Republicans control the Senate 26-24. Rep. Albert W. Johnson (R-McKean), assistant GOP floor leader, summarized the Republican stand by declaring:

"We are called upon to tax the people 35 million dollars in what will be a futile attempt to attract industry to Pennsylvania. I say forget the program and lend a helping hand in another way. This is asking the people to pay a terrific price."

Johnson's 35 million dollar figure included an appropriation of 8½ million dollars for a mine drainage program, another segment of the industrial development proposals which was approved by the Legislature July 7.

The House vote was 108-76 on all but the authority bill. On that one, Rep. John T. Walsh (D-Allegheny) voted no to make it 107-77.

BUMPER CROP OF TOMATOES IS POSSIBILITY

Adams County may wind up with a bumper tomato crop, according to current estimates of growers and processors.

So far growing conditions have been good, and plants excellent, according to the reports. Growers and processors alike are hoping for a top quality year, and so far prospects are for good quality. Last year the crop taxed the skill of processors, they reported, but there was, nevertheless, a substantial pack of tomato juice.

However, processors noted that "fine tomatoes make fine quality products" and because quality is the basis on which county processors sell their product, they hope for top quality tomatoes as a start in the processing in order to more easily have a top quality finished product.

Still Up To Weather
Despite present prospects the processors and growers were still cautious — having learned over the years that there is often quite a difference between prospects and final harvest.

Don Horst, of the C. H. Musselman Co., observed that last year's crop, which ended "sadly," as growers put it, at this time of the season was no more than 10 per cent off this year's prospective bumper crop. "The damage to last year's crop, too much rain when sun was needed and too much sun when rain was needed, actually occurred from this time on," he recalled.

But growers and processors were agreed that "with average to fair rain and warm ripening weather, this year can be a very good year in terms of total supply."

The possibility of a bumper crop however causes some worry — concerning eventual prices. A bumper crop would tend to lower the price. Many county growers however have processor contracts for fixed acreage, which gives them protection for prices.

CROPS ARE HIT BY PROLONGED SEARING HEAT

HARRISBURG (AP)—The prolonged dry spell and heat wave constitute a "serious threat" to farm crops in the eastern two-thirds of the commonwealth, the State Agriculture Department reports.

Rapid declines were noted in pasture conditions, especially in the eastern part of the state, during the week which ended Monday, the department said yesterday.

Dairy farmers in the eastern section are "being forced to feed hay and silage to their cattle, thereby adding to the cost of milk production, the department declared in its weekly crop report. Rainfall for the week averaged only about one-third of normal while temperatures averaged five degrees above normal.

The report continued: "Growing crops in the eastern two-thirds of the state are showing the most serious effects of the prolonged dry spell. Much corn in the southeast is wilting and tasseling at short heights.

Potatoes are showing the effects of dry weather. Late and midseason varieties must have moisture soon for best tuber development. Tobacco growth is slow and farmers are irrigating where possible.

Wants Age Clause In Bill Removed

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Republican lawmaker who may hold the deciding vote on a House-Senate compromise over fair employment practices legislation said today he would like to see a clause banning job discrimination because of age removed from the bill.

Rep. Charles C. Smith, House GOP floor leader, emphasized, however, that if such action would "destroy the bill" he would favor going along with the age agreement inserted over Democratic protests by the Republican-controlled Senate.

Smith disclosed that he had chosen himself as the Republican House member of the six-man committee due to try to work out agreement between House and Senate passed versions of the bipartisan legislation.

Reps. Herman Toll (D-Phila.) and J. P. Moran (D-Allegheny) have been chosen as the other House members of the conference committee although it has not been officially named as yet. The Senate will, by custom, appoint two Republicans and one Democrat to the committee.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger, Democratic floor leader, announced, however, that the measures will not be voted upon until after a proposed three-week House recess. The Democratic House majority last night blocked GOP efforts to sidetrack action on the legislation by refusing to return it to the counties committee.
The straight party vote was 79 yes and 107 no, following a half hour debate. The recommittal motion was made by Rep. W. W. Waterhouse (R-Erie), who led opposition to the bills.

Chicago And Yankees Stay Ahead In American League Race As Tribe And Boston Bow; Braves Gain One

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

A handful of oldtimers, supposed to wilt in the heat, looked like a crop of young rookies as first place Chicago and runnerup New York gave Boston and Cleveland hotfoots in the sizzling American League race last night.

It was Connie Johnson, 32, and Millard (Dixie) Howell, 35, both reclaimed from the minors, who supplied the pitching in the White Sox' 2-1 decision over Boston. And at New York, the Yankees nudged Cleveland 2-1 on the pitching of 35-year-old Tommy Byrne, another retrain, and a pair of home runs by Joe Collins, 32.

As a result, the White Sox still have their one-game lead over the Yankees, but Cleveland has fallen two games back and Boston four. Fifth-place Detroit, 7½ games behind, outslugged Washington, 13-10, and Baltimore tumbled Kansas City 5-1.

Braves Take Brooks
In the National, Brooklyn gave in to a Milwaukee rally, 5-3; New York beat St. Louis 3-0; Cincinnati whitewashed Philadelphia twice, 2-0 and 4-0; and Chicago pasted Pittsburgh 12-4.

None of the White Sox and Yankee heroes of last night are old codgers, exactly, but they're well past the flaming youth stage. Johnson had Boston's kids well in check with two out in the ninth, then had to get relief for his fourth victory in five decisions since being brought up from Toronto on June 30. He gave a single to Jim Piersall and went 2-0 against pinch-hitting Faye Thronberry before Morrie Martin, another veteran, came on. Thronberry swatted a triple to make it 2-1 and Howell, up from Memphis, went 3-2 against Eddie Joost before getting him on a game ending fly.

Three singles made for one run in third off Joser Tom Brewer and Jim Rivera belted a double for the winning margin in the fourth. Collins, with just two home runs in the last two months, made it 1-1 in the first inning with his first homer of the night. Then he broke up a duel between Byrne and Early Wynn, another 35-year-old guy, with his one-out poke in the 10th.

The Indians' run came in on Al Smith's leadoff triple and Bobby Avila's sacrifice fly. From then on, Byrne shut the door—giving just six hits the rest of the way for his 10th victory against two defeats. Wynn, who had counted the Yankees three times in his 13 victories, took his sixth defeat.

Antonielli Stops Cards
Detroit blew an 8-2 lead and then a 10-8 lead at Washington before jumping on reliever Pedro Ramos for three in the ninth. Harvey Kuenn had two doubles and a pair of singles for the Tigers as each club got 17 hits. The joint 23-run slugfest was accomplished without the help of a homer.

Milwaukee tied the Brooks at 3-3 as Ed Mathews swatted his 28th homer—his second of the game—then got two more in the big eighth inning rally on Don Zimmer's error. Phil Paine one-hit the Dodgers for four relief innings and fanned six for his first major league decision this year. Rookie Roger Craig took his first defeat with the Brooklyn—his only lead by just 13½ games.

Johnny Antonelli, one of the big busts with the Giants this season, blanked the Cards on five hits while Don Mueller drove in two runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Banks Matches Records
Cincinnati paired a four-hitter by Johnny Kippstein and a five-hitter by Joe Nuxhall with the bat work of Gus Bell to sweep the two-nighter from the Phils. Bell had two RBI singles in the opener and hit two homers in the nightcap.

Ernie Banks matched a major league record with his fourth grand slam home run of the season for the Cubs and added a run producing single to trample the Bucs. His bases-loaded shot marked a six-run fifth.

Bill Wright, the Tribe castoff, four-hit the A's, who contributed four errors that made all the Oriole runs unearned. Wright gave just one hit over seven innings—Bill Wilson's homer in the fifth.

Cashtown defeated Thurmont 6 to 3 on the loer's field Tuesday evening when the two teams met to play a game that had been postponed from last month.

Cashtown made its initial score in the first inning after one was out. G. Herring was walked, went to second on a wild pitch. J. Herring grounded out to first, Donaldson singled and brought in G. Herring. W. Bucher grounded out to third base to retire the side.

Thurmont tied the game at 1 to 1 in the first. Stittley got on base on a walk, and finally came in on an attempted double play, when G. Herring threw low to first and the ball got away from Jack Bream.

Cashtown made four of its runs in the second inning. Bieseker walked, Cloyd Spence singled, Bream attempted a sacrifice, but J. Spence made it safely to short stop. Bill Smith sent a grounder over third base into left field and two runs scored. G. Herring singled and another run scored. Herring came in with the fourth run as the out was made in a grounder. Singley also drove in Cashtown's final run, in the sixth, with a fast grounder down the third base line.

In the last inning, two were out, two were on base for Thurmont and the field was almost too dark for play when a long fly went out to center field. Despite darkness Cloyd Spence made a spectacular catch to end the game.

Dust impaired the play and made vision difficult. Kenneth Bieseker was struck in the face by a ground ball in the fifth and Singley also was struck in the face by a ball in the first, but neither suffered any serious hurt.

Tonight's Game
VFV versus Moose.

The Eagles defeated the American Legion 8 to 4 Tuesday night in a community softball league game and set the stage for a possible tie for third place in the final league standings.

If the league-leading Moose defeat the Veterans of Foreign Wars tonight in the final game of the regular season schedule, the VFV and Eagles will be in a tie for third place in the standings. If the Vets win they will have undisputed possession of third place.

Thus final decision on the start of the playoffs for the championship of the league will have to await the results of tonight's contest.

Play-Off Thursday
If the VFV wins tonight, the playoffs will begin on Friday. If the Moose win tonight, the tie that will result between the VFV and Eagles will be played off Thursday night—on Friday as a rain date, and the title playoffs will begin Monday.

The opening night schedule for the playoffs, whether that will be Friday or Monday, calls for the fourth place team to play the second place team at 7 o'clock, followed by the contest between the third place team versus the first place holder.

The league plays Monday, Wednesday and Friday of next week in the "best of five" series between the clubs. For the second night of competition the first place team will play the third place team in the opening, 7 o'clock, contest, followed by the game between second and fourth place squads.

In Tuesday's tilt the Eagles drew first blood with a single by McGlaughlin, a walk for Little and an infield miscue putting across the initial run for the winners.

The Legion came right back to take a 3 to 1 lead in the bottom of the second. Olson singled and Dubbs too' first on an error. Melheim then singled to drive in the first two runners while Schrifer followed with another single to bring in Melheim.

The Eagles tallied twice in the

Doubles Match And Teen-Tennis Tonight
The final first-round doubles match in the Recreation Association Tennis Tournament will be played this evening when Jim Gilbert and Glenn Weishaar face Hugh McIlhenny and Ed Hirschman, at 6:30 o'clock. The winners will meet John Houser and Dick Fohl, find a final opponent for Dick Cogley and Lloyd Benner.

One match in the Teen-Age tournament is also slated for this evening, pitting Dave Weimer against Don Knox. In matches Tuesday Rolf Johnson defeated Richard Dracha, 6-4 and 6-0; Niels Sundermeyer defeated Ralph Kunkle, 6-3 and 6-4; and Hugh McIlhenny defeated Jack Kunkle, 6-0 and 6-1.

SEE CHANCE OF NEW RECORD IN HAMBLETONIAN

By JOHN CHANDLER

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP)—Eleven of the world's speediest 3-year-old trotters face the barrier today in the $86,863 Hambletonian Stake, and the horse with the coolest name—Scott Frost—could very well smash the record for the famous sulky derby.

As thousands of spectators jammed into this little Orange County village for the 30th edition of the harness racing classic, there were few who would concede much of a chance for anything else in the race against the California comet owned by Sol Camp.

Drivers and owners of the opposition acclaimed Scott Frost as the finest 3-year-old trotter since the immortal Greyhound won the 1935 Hambletonian.

Hot Man Has Record
Hoot Mon, daddy of Scott Frost and Butch Hanover, holds the Hambletonian record of 2:00 set in 1947, and Scott not only won a race last year in two minutes, but topped the $10,000 Hambletonian Test in the same clocking last Thursday at Vernon Downs, N.Y.

If there is one dark horse in the race, it could be Indian Raider, owned by Dave Resnick of Washington, Pa.

Scott Frost has two other Camp horses to keep him company, Butch Hanover and Home Free. If anything is to give them trouble, the odds makers look to Galophone, 4-1, owned by William T. Maybury of Dexter, Me., and Childs Hanover, 6-1, from the stable of Kenneth D. Owen, Houston, Tex.

10 In First Tier
Scott Frost and his mates were 3-5 in the morning line.

Others in the field are Leopold Hanover, Mrs. Charlotte De Van, Hanover, Pa.; Colymbite, Leo C. McNamara, Indianapolis; Wayhead, Gainesway Farm, Lexington, Ky.; Flemington, Arthur Brown, New York City; and Arvilla Hanover, Roger Brown, New York City.

Ten horses will start in the first tier behind the mobile gate, and Arvilla Hanover, only filly in the race, will be in the No. 11 slot right behind the No. 1 post, Leopold Hanover. Scott Frost is No. 5, Childs Hanover No. 7, and Galophone No. 9.

McDougald Hit On Head By Batted Ball

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankee second baseman Gil McDougald was reported in "satisfactory" condition and resting comfortably in the hospital today after being struck in the head by a batted ball before last night's New York-Cleveland game.

A drive off the bat of teammate Bob Cerv struck McDougald on the side of the head during practice as he stood just outside the protective screen set up near second base.

His ear was lacerated and there was considerable swelling around it. Yankee physicians were of the opinion that the injury was not serious and that he would be released from the hospital today. As a precaution, X-rays will be taken.

150 Pros Tee Off In Chicago Today

CHICAGO (AP)—Some 150 pros were to tee off today in the Tam O'Shanter golf circus to determine 72 unexempted qualifying berths in the $25,000 All American tournament.

Lionel Hebert of Erie, Pa., stroked a seven-under-par 65 yesterday to lead the first section of pros. Hebert's 32-33 over the par 36-36 course was one stroke better than Bob Gadjia, Detroit veteran, who came in with a 33-33-66.

Hebert's effort was only two strokes above Lloyd Mangrum's course record of 63.

Hebert, 27-year-old brother of the more celebrated Jay Hebert, was one of 29 players who tied for last place in last year's qualifying round. However, he turned out to be just another player in the tournament.

Cards To Try Moon At First In Test

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, with an eye on the future, are going to try Wally Moon at first base in an effort to get Stan (The Man) Musial back in his natural outfield berth.

Moon is scheduled to hold down the first base job in tonight's game with the Giants. Manager Harry Walker said he would leave the 25-year-old National League rookie of the year in 1954 on first "unless he hurts us too much."

Musial, hitting 301 but with only 3 runs batted in the last 14 games, said: "The outfield comes natural for me. I can't relax at first base."

CHARLES AND JACKSON TO FIGHT TONIGHT

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Is Ezzard Charles finished? Is Hurricane Jackson just a freak fighter?

The answer comes up tonight at War Memorial Auditorium and it could be "yes" in both cases.

Charles, the 34-year-old former heavyweight champ, must win convincingly over the awkward Hurricane if he is to remain a serious factor in the division.

On Radio And TV
Jackson, only 23, must prove he can handle a "class" fighter of Charles' stature if he is to retain his No. 3 ranking among Rocky Marciano's contenders.

The 10-round match will be carried on ABC radio and television at 9 p.m., EST.

A slick spoiler like Jimmy Slade deflated Jackson in 1954 when he was riding high after knockouts of Rex Layne and Danny Baccaroni. Nino Valdes, the No. 1 contender at the time, dropped Jackson three times in the second round to win on an automatic TKO a year ago in Madison Square Garden.

Has Six Straight
Since that disastrous evening, Jackson has won six straight, including a decision over his tormentor, Slade. However, Jackson still flaps his hands awkwardly and is vulnerable to a good body puncher like Charles used to be.

Off the record, Charles figures to outbox Hurricane and hurt him with body punches. But the big spread in their ages and evidence that Charles' legs have begun to go are in Jackson's favor.

TO PLAY THURSDAY

The Taneystown Little Leaguers will play their next game Thursday at Libertytown. Their next home game will be Monday evening against Union Bridge.

There were 1,364,000 U. S. college students in 1939 compared to 2,475,000 in 1954.

FAMILY SHOULD TEACH CHILD RESPONSIBILITY

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

The Associated Press

Your child has both duties and privileges by being a member of the family. In so far as possible it's a good idea to keep these things separate.

As a child enjoys the benefits of the family, he needs to learn to contribute freely and willingly to its welfare. As a tiny tot he has no responsibilities, but growth carries with it obligations. The older child should do his share of the work around the house—not for pay, not as a special favor to anyone—but because he is a member of the group and we all do things for the smooth-running comfort of the family.

You need to steer a careful course between requiring too much from your children and being a maid of all work for them.

What a child's duties are will vary with every family and every child. When he's quite small he can empty the ashtrays or the scrap baskets. As he gets older he can make his bed, keep his room in order, help with the dishes, wash the car, cut the lawn.

School, Play First
Be reasonable. Remember the child's first job is to go to school and to play. What he does at home should help him grow up and not interfere with primary activities of childhood.

Set him an example of kindly consideration.

Do plenty of extra nice little things for your children and your husband. Stop in at the library and bring home that book about airplanes that answers the question raised last night. Have a pitcher of lemonade ready when Dad or the kids come in hot and tired.

Everyone enjoys having special things done for him. Plan with Tom some little surprise for Dad, and when Dad and Tom do things for you show your real appreciation of this thoughtfulness. As Tom grows up in this kind of atmosphere he will assume his share of home duties because it's the way of life.

Rates Spending Money

A child is entitled to some spending money, just as he is entitled to food and clothing and a bed to sleep in. His allowance depends upon his age and experience, the family income, and the expenses he is supposed to take care of with his own money. It's also a good idea to take into consideration how much money his friends have to spend. It's never wise for one child to have a lot more money than his friends.

You cannot buy consideration; don't pay a child for being helpful. Give him his allowance free and without strings. Surround him with a climate of mutual helpfulness.

CHOIR ROBE CAN BE EASILY MADE

By DOROTHY ROWE

The Associated Press

There comes a time in the life of almost every mother when she is called upon to make a choir robe for Junior or Sis. When the Sunday School choir performs at regular church services or when the school club gives a concert, it's Mom's job to supply the robe for her offspring.

A choir robe suitable for either boys or girls is easy to make from a simple standard pattern. Since it never goes out of style, it can be passed along for years.

Local sewing center experts suggest a classic pattern which contains direction for a skirt, tie, collar (this is the name for smock-like top) and two collars. The skirt is a simple wrap-around model with two deep side pleats to allow plenty of leg room. The waistband is finished with an adjustable side closure, so it will fit both slender and chubby children without pattern alteration. A quarter yard of cording is required for collar stiffening. You will find that the buttonhole attachment on your sewing machine will simplify making the buttonholes for the collar band.

Although tradition dictates sheer lawn for the collar (top) and faille for the skirt, there's no rule against going modern and making the whole business of nylon. It will save on laundry problems and nylon taffeta produces a satisfying rustle. If you are stitching with synthetics, be sure to adjust your machine tension appropriately, and use nylon or dacron thread and a small needle.

Devises Formula To Measure "Humiture"

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — It isn't the heat but the humiture. Osborn Fort Hevener says he coined the word by taking the nose of humidity and the tail of temperature, blending them to describe what makes you suffer in hot weather. He adds the temperature (in degrees) to the relative humidity (in percentage points) and divides by two. The answer comes out in "humiture." The unit for measuring "humiture."

For example if the temperature is 83 and the relative humidity 53 the total is 136 and divided by two the humiture is 68. Hevener says a 60 to 70 humiture is ideal. Over 70 it is stuffy, not and uncomfortable. Under 60 it is chilly and likewise uncomfortable.

It takes 65 to 100 mink skins to make a coat.

TOWN COUNCIL
BUYS FOGGER IN
MOSQUITO FIGHT

The Taneytown Town Council voted to buy a "fogger," a machine which lays down an insecticide "mist," at its monthly meeting Monday evening in the Municipal Building. The machine, similar to Gettysburg's, will be purchased from Fog, Inc., Wickoff, N. J., for $1,846, and is expected to be delivered within the next 15 days.

The main reason for the purchase was the prevalence of mosquitoes in the area, whose ravages were described as "terrible." It is also hoped that the new weapon will be effective against flies.

Four residents of Taney Drive appeared at the meeting, and declared that the work on the sewer system had wrecked their street, and asked that the town pave it. The four were John Chenoweth, Kenneth Davidson, Frank Butler and Hewitt MacPherson. The council decided to investigate the matter and discuss it next month.

Traffic Lights Urged

Val Edwards, insurance claims adjuster for W. F. Wilson and Sons, the contractor for the sewer construction, attended the council meeting, and discussed matters pertaining to claims settlements with the councilmen. The council voted to pay $49,000 in bills for sewer construction during the past month.

A recent letter from Frank Wagny was discussed, in which it was suggested that traffic lights be installed as a safety measure at two Baltimore St. intersections. As the Town Council has no power to install traffic lights, the letter was referred to the State Roads Commission, according to council secretary Henry Reindollar.

Motto And Budget Up

A request was received from A. W. Feeser and Co., Inc., that a water line be run out to one of the Feeser farms, located approximately three-fourths of a mile from Taneytown, out the Uniontown Road. The council agreed to make the water available if the Feeser Co. would supply the pipe.

Police Chief Robert L. Koontz reported three criminal arrests during the past month, all for disorderly conduct, eight motor code violations and 19 parking tickets.

The question of adopting a town motto was discussed, but no decision was reached. It was announced

Faller died in the hospital, an hour after the before-noon shooting.

Disarmed By Reporter

Mrs. Jessie Holtzman, assistant probation officer, said the shooting "was a terrible thing," adding: "The whole thing happened in a matter of seconds. Before we realized it, it was all over. He just seemed to shoot them down in the order he had picked."

George Geiger, 30-year-old court reporter, disarmed Haines. He leaped from his desk toward the killer when the sound of gunfire caused him to lift his eyes from his notes.

Went Berserk

"Haines was standing in front of me with the gun pointed at my head," Geiger said. "I just jumped at him and we had a brief tussle and I took the gun from him."

"He began to walk away. Then I turned the gun on him and said 'I don't know if there are any more bullets in this thing, but if there are and you move one more step I'll shoot you.'"

Haines went berserk after Judge Garber handed down his order.

Had Been Estranged

"How am I going to pay?" Haines shouted at the judge. "I don't have the money."

Haines' attorney, J. Boyd Landis of Carlisle, said "We'll worry about that later."

Then out came the pistol and methodically Haines fired—first at his wife, then Faller, Black and the judge.

Mrs. Holtzman said Haines, now unemployed, had been estranged from his wife for some time. The couple have several married children.

TELLS OF FRAUD BY JAP LEADERS ON HULL NOTE; BROUGHT ON WAR

TOKYO (AP)—Shigeru Yoshida says in his memoirs that some of Japan's leaders at the time of Pearl Harbor tampered with the text of a final U.S. note, thus persuading reluctant officials to agree to war.

"This was a fraud by the military and amounted to conspiracy," declares the 76-year-old diplomat and politician who guided Japan as prime minister through six post-war years.

He said the note from the late Secretary of State Cordell Hull just before the Pearl Harbor attack was marked "Not definitive."

One-Sided Manner
His memoirs, now appearing in the big newspaper Asahi, said the main text was an honest presentation of the views of both sides. There was the added comment in the note that "this is a basis for negotiation" and part of the preamble emphasized "this is a tentative plan."

"Not only were all these words deleted," Yoshida said, "but the portion covering the Japanese stand was also deleted when the document was submitted to the Privy Council as 'the Hull note.' I was informed that only the American position was carried in a one-sided manner."

Got Along With "Mac"
It was on the basis of this doctored note—accepted by Japan as a virtual U.S. ultimatum—that reluctant Japanese civilian leaders and some doubtful military chiefs finally agreed to war, Yoshida said.

Yoshida himself, with years of experience abroad as a diplomat in London, Rome and Washington, had many misgivings. He was arrested by the military later in the war when he joined a movement for a negotiated peace.

Yoshida got along well with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who was running the Allied occupation. He praised the general for refusing to bow to Soviet demands that the Emperor be tried as a war criminal.

250 AT PICNIC AT FAIRGROUND

More than 250 attended the annual picnic of the Inter-State Milk Producers Cooperative and the Adams County Dairy Herd Improvement Association Tuesday at the South Mountain Fairgrounds.

The program opened in the morning with horseshoes, baseball and similar activities. Following the basket lunch, a speaking program was held in the auditorium.

Richard S. Doughty, in charge of products control for the Philadelphia Dairy Products Co., told the group that Pennsylvanians are "now drinking and using the finest, the purest milk they have ever had. Strict controls all the way down the line make sure that the milk people drink in perfectly pure, and of the highest quality."

He and John W. Newlin, associate counsel for Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative, held that there is danger in attempts, such as are occurring, they said, in New Jersey, to push cheap milk on the market. They held that Pennsylvania's system of milk controls is "about the best there is" and reported that there is a possibility of a federal set-up for all milk.

By 1956 it is expected there will be about eight million men between the ages 20-25 in the United States.

Rebecca Nail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Nail, Bridgeport, left Friday to visit her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Nail and family at Stamford, Conn. They will go to Chatham Beach, Cape Cod, Mass., for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fuss, East Baltimore Street; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Keilholz, Emmitsburg, spent Sunday at Cowan's Gap, State Park, Pa.

Misses Barbara and Brenda Dimmick, Catonsville, Md., were weekend guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wagny, R. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cartzen, daughter and daughter, Joan, Emmitsburg Road; Mr. and Mrs. David Hiltbrink and children, Pay and Lamar, near town, visited Cowan's Gap, State Park, near McConnellsburg, Pa., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hess held a surprise birthday party at Nell's Restaurant for their daughter, Pat, 16. Attending were Pat Hess, Frances Drake, Carolyn McClure, Rosemary Eulich, Jo Hoff, Tillie Snyder, Jane Kinter, Marsha Wolf, Shelly Crommer, Barry Sealover, Jan Wiley, Barry Bollinger, Ronald Stum, Arthur Rider, and Jay Evans. There were games and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Farrier, Old York Rd., Dillsburg R. D., attended the State Weaving exhibition at Stroudsburg, Pa.

Ralph K. Lefever, Lefever Bros., represented area dealers at a recent meeting of the Chevrolet Planning Committee in Harrisburg.

Dillsburg Sale Days will be held Wednesday, August 17, to Saturday, August 20.

Bitter Wrangling Changes To Compliments And Good Humor As Congress Ends Early Today

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Bitter wrangles of the last few days turned to mutual compliments and rollicking good humor as Congress ended its seven-month session early today.

President Eisenhower relayed his regards and apparently an over-all satisfaction to the Democratic-controlled Congress, which had strongly supported him in foreign policy matters and given him much he asked in the domestic field.

A half-dozen major bills and scores of lesser ones had been rushed to his desk in the final long day and night of this first session of the 85th Congress.

These included bills on housing, polio vaccine, the local transit strike, defense production, loans to small business and a money bill to finance Congress itself.

Eisenhower had expressed displeasure with some features of the housing bill, but some Republican leaders discounted the talk that he might summon a special session to deal with the issue again.

Barring a special session, Congress will return January 3.

Adjournment came two working days after the target date which Democratic leaders had fixed. The House quit at 11:36 p.m., the Senate at 12:05 a.m.

Many Senate and House members already had left the capital for home or on trips planned in the expectation Congress would quit Saturday as originally planned.

Few others were expected to stay long in Washington's heat — it reached a steamy 98 yesterday — although a few committee hearings were planned for the next few days.

Left in midair were controversial proposals for construction of atomic merchant vessels, highway building, school construction, exemption of natural gas producers from federal regulation, upper Colorado River development, customs simplification, rigid farm price supports and expanded social security benefits.

To Remain Alive

All these were passed by one house but ignored by the other. They remain alive to touch off new disputes in the 1956 election-year session.

The legislators took no action on several recommendations Eisenhower is expected to renew next year.

These include proposals for liberalizing the Refugee Admission Act, increasing postal rates, lowering the voting age to 18, loans for low-income farmers, federal reinsurance of health programs, pay increases for top government executives and revision of the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act.

On '56 Horizon

Looming on the horizon for 1956 when the Democrats still will control both houses, barring upsets caused by deaths, are expected new proposals to cut taxes and a showdown fight over Democratic-supported efforts to restore rigid farm price supports.

The House wound up its business in a carnival atmosphere, with perhaps more than the usual amount of singing and general hijinks.

But that ended shortly before adjournment with a tribute to his colleagues from Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex.), who said: "I think you have been the hardest working Congress that it's ever been my privilege to serve."

Senators, less bolsterous, passed around compliments. Then in a chamber from which nearly all his colleagues had departed, Sen. Morse (D-Ore) spoke on into the night on aid to education.

There were some few differences of opinion over the record the two houses compiled in a session that began Jan. 5.

Sen. Clements of Kentucky, acting Democratic leader, told the Senate:

"I do not desire to quote the President, but I do not hesitate to say to the Senate that though he may have been disappointed along the line . . . at some shortcomings, in his estimation, on the part of the Congress, yet I am of the opinion that he thinks that the Congress did a very creditable job during the first session . . ."

"Troud Of Record"

Clements read a statement by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the majority leader who suffered a heart attack a month ago, saying, "Everyone of us can be proud of the record of this Congress."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, said the Senate had faced important foreign policy matters "as Americans, not as partisans." He said he had talked to Eisenhower and that the President "sent his regards to each member."

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) said credit should go to Sen. George (D-Ga.) for the developments that culminated in the Big Four summit talks at Geneva. He added that had it not been for the Democratic leadership Eisenhower never would have gone to the conference.

ASK ROAD BIDS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Highways Dept. has called for bids Sept. 2 on these highway projects:

Clearfield—Resurface and widen 2.99 miles of roadway between Shawville and Needful.

Crawford—Resurface 2.42 miles of roadway between Lincolnville and Riceville.

The U. S. Office of Education estimates that there will be a 12,293,000 increase in public school enrollment in 1960 compared with 1950.

OFFER FUNDS TO GIRL, 2, ALIEN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A two-year-old girl who will have to leave the country to establish her American citizenship has been offered funds for a trip to Canada by a Philadelphia disc jockey.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Jacobs, parents of little Lesley Sharon, explained that the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization service considers her an alien.

Her's why, Jacobs said: At the time of Lesley Sharon's birth in England, he had not had five years of residence in the U. S. after reaching the age of 16. The little girl was born while he was stationed at Buitonwood Air Force Base, Warrington, England. Under the same law, Jacobs said, another child, Marvin, 1½ years old, is considered a citizen.

Jacobs said the immigration officials told him he would have to take Lesley Sharon outside the U. S.—Canada would be the closest spot—obtain a visa and then apply for her citizenship.

Yesterday, disc jockey Phil Sheridan said funds for the little girl's trip would be forthcoming—if her parents accepted—from money he earned in guest appearances.

Mrs. Jacobs, the former Louise Doran of Manchester, England, said she and her husband would not reach a decision immediately.

For two years (1946 and 1947) Ted Williams of the Red Sox failed to steal a single base.

AIRMAN LISTED AS LOST; WIFE HAD REMARRIED

By LEONARD LEFKOW
CISCO GROVE, Calif. (AP) — A thin 20-year-old girl today faced the biggest decision of her life: whether to return to the airman husband she thought was dead or stay with the man she married later and loves.

"I knew it was coming, but I didn't know when," said Mrs. Alfred Fine, who at 17 wed A-2c Daniel Schmidt, of Cour D'Alene, Idaho, and bore his son after he left for overseas.

Now she is the wife of a husky 21-year-old logging camp tractor operator. They live in a small trailer a few miles from this tiny highway town in the High Sierra.

Schmidt Due Release
Only Monday she learned that Schmidt is one of 11 American airmen due for momentary release by the Chinese Communists after 2½ years of imprisonment on spy charges. He went overseas 37 months ago.

She's flying to meet Schmidt when he arrives in this country. With her will go her 2½-year-old son Danny, a dark-eyed youngster who has never seen his father.

"I honestly don't know what I'm going to do," she told a reporter. "Naturally, I'm tickled he is returning. Whatever I decide, the decision will be my own."

Made Mistake
She said she married Fine two months before learning from the Air Force that her husband was alive and well as a prisoner. "I made a mistake," she said, "but isn't everyone entitled to one mistake?"

Mrs. Fine said she had never been officially told that Schmidt was dead. She received notification only that he was missing somewhere in Korea.

"I thought he was dead. You know how some prisoners die in prisons or are never heard from again. . . I didn't know."

Strange Situation
Of Schmidt, she says: "I loved him very much. After all, he is the father of my child. But I was only with him a few weeks before he went overseas."

Of Fine: "We're very happy. I don't like it up here in the woods but he's been a good husband and I love him."

Fine himself says little about the strange situation.

"We met and we fell in love. That's about all there is to tell," he said. "Her happiness means more to me than anything. We talked it over and it's my wife's decision."

JAIL ROTER SHOT TO DEATH

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Ten officers shot one prisoner to death and injured four others last night in quelling a 58-man jail riot.

The bloody outbreak was the Bexar County Jail's second abortive riot in a week. The first, on July 26, took three hours to break up. Last night's was stopped in 30 minutes.

Sheriff Owen Kilday, a brother of Rep. Paul Kilday (D-Tex.), wept as he told of firing the fatal bullet into Rudolfo Escobedo, 27, as the riot flared to a climax about 9 p.m.

"I saw him fall," Kilday sobbed. "Fired In Self-Defense"

He said he fired in self-defense, Escobedo, he said, was brandishing a large tray and refused to put it down as the sheriff ordered. Kilday said when Escobedo started to throw the tray at him, "I shot him."

Galvino Beltran, 18, was shot in both legs and Rudolfo Reyes, 33, was shot in the right leg. Two other prisoners were struck by flying objects. None were believed in serious condition.

Jailer Bob Beckman said the riot began when vengeful prisoners protested disciplinary action against Johnny Crawford, 22, an habitual criminal serving a life term and described as a leader in last week's riot.

Escobedo was serving a 90-day term for theft. He died in a hospital about 30 minutes after end of the riot.

The National tennis championships will be held at Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 2-11, inclusive.

Schweitzer Scoffs At Health Reports

BORDEAUX, France (AP) — Dr. Albert Schweitzer Tuesday returned to France from his jungle hospital and told reporters he could not understand how reports that his eyesight was falling got started.

The 80-year-old organist, philosopher, physician and Nobel Peace Prize winner for 1952 said he planned to spend the summer at his home in the Alsatian region of eastern France. He said he plans to return to his hospital at Lambaréne in French Equatorial Africa in the fall.

New trustees were also chosen, with those elected being Lake George Weant, Paul Weant, Robert Stott and Clarence Markle. Roy L. Baker and Clarence Baumgardner were named for another position.

The meeting Sunday was held at the direction of Baltimore Presbytery after an earlier meeting of the congregation could not be held "because of a defect in the call."

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea today demanded that Red China immediately free 20,000 Korean prisoners of war and civilians.

Acting Foreign Minister Cho Chung Whan made the demand in a statement. No mention was made of North Korea.

Senate Expects To Kill Tax Bill At Thursday's Session

HARRISBURG (P) — The Senate Finance Committee took the first step Tuesday in a declared plan to kill Gov. Leader's classified income tax bill this week.

The Republican-controlled committee voted to place the 411 million dollar tax bill before the Senate, itself, for a roll call vote, which may be taken Thursday. The Democratic-controlled House passed the measure last week.

Republicans and Democrats, divided along party lines on the tax bill, joined forces in reporting the bill out of committee, thus placing the issue before the Senate itself.

Chairman Edward J. Kessler (R—Lancaster) said the committee voted to report the controversial bill to the Senate for debate and action without recommendation and without changes.

"We're through with Democratic delays," said Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Senate Republican floor leader. "The bill is in our (Republican) hands and we plan to kill it no later than Thursday or Friday."

Get Bill Monday
Although it passed the Democratic-dominated House a week ago Tuesday, the bill was not actually transmitted to the Senate until Monday night as part of calculated Democratic strategy to prevent its death in the Senate last week.

The governor made a bid for an extra week's time to seek two or three Republican votes for the measure. From present indications it appears that the struggle is still on.

Democrats have 24 members in the Senate. They would have to gain two of the 26 Republican votes to pass the income levy.

As the tax fight approached a climax in the Senate, a group of Republican county leaders said in an open letter to Miles Horst, GOP state chairman, and Republican legislators:

Oppose Wage Tax

"We want you to know that almost all of the people in both parties in our counties are overwhelmingly against Leader's wage tax and are looking to our Republican Senate to save the state from its terrible consequences."

Meanwhile, the House Democratic leadership began serious discussions on the possibility of taking a three-week recess at the end of this week's session. It would bring the lawmakers back to Harrisburg Aug. 29.

But the governor is known to be lukewarm to the idea until the tax program is solved. House Democrats, however, take the position they've fulfilled their tax roles and that the governor should concentrate on the GOP-dominated Senate.

Mahany wouldn't commit himself on the recess question. He plans to bring the issue before his GOP colleagues at a caucus during the week.

On the tax front, Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, assailed as "a fake" an intensive letter-writing campaign to Democratic senators asking them to oppose the income tax proposal.

Dent then challenged Republicans to come up with an alternative to the income tax, shouting:

"We don't care what kind of tax bill you want—just say what it is." Mahany, giving a Republican reply, said the income tax is based on the source of income and not on ability to pay.

"If it were such a good bill they (Democrats) would not have had such a hard time getting it through the House," Mahany said.

18th Polio Death In Massachusetts

BOSTON (P) — Massachusetts' 18th polio death this year was recorded Tuesday as the state's 1955 total of cases pushed above the 500 mark.

In the six New England states, the year's total now is 675. This counts 520 in Massachusetts, 78 in Connecticut, 23 in New Hampshire, 21 in Rhode Island, 17 in Vermont and 15 in Maine.

Boston, which has borne the

DEMOCRATS TRY SEAT SHUFFLE WITH NEW BILL

HARRISBURG (P) — A new attempt was afoot by Democrats today to reapportion Pennsylvania's 50 state senatorial districts.

Little chance of passage appeared in store for a bill sponsored by Sens. Harry E. Seyler (D—York) and William V. Mullin (D—Phila.), however, since much reshuffling would occur in districts now controlled by the Republican-dominated Senate.

Seyler and Mullin apparently introduced the measure on their own. Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman said he was not familiar with its terms.

But Democrats for years have been driving for reapportionment of Senate seats, which they maintain are tipped in favor of Republican districts.

Now Favors GOP

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, often has proclaimed that Democrats, who hold only 24 seats against the Republicans' 26, represent more than 52 per cent of the state's population.

Although the state constitution calls for reapportionment of Legislature seats every 10 years on the basis of latest U.S. census figures, it has not been done in the Senate in 33 years. House seats on the other hand were reapportioned in the 1953 session.

Under the Seyler-Mullin plan fast-growing Delaware and Montgomery counties would be given a second seat instead of only one as at present. Washington and Beaver counties would be set up as separate senatorial districts.

Nine Others Affected

In all, nine other districts would be affected in the reshuffling, which would see: Tioga and Sullivan counties combined with Bradford, Susquehanna and Wyoming counties into one district; Elk, brunt of the disease in Massachusetts, has had 235 cases — the highest number ever reported in one year. Thirteen were added Monday.

SEEK TO SAVE OLD BUILDINGS

HARRISBURG (P) — Legislation to prevent wholesale destruction of Pennsylvania's historical buildings—now already protected by law—was before the Senate Tuesday.

And under a plan sponsored by Sen. Israel Stiefel (D—Phila.) plans to preserve such sites would have a protective club put in their hands for the first time.

Cameron and Clinton joined with McKean and Potter; Mifflin added to Northumberland, Snyder and Union; Adams join Cumberland; Greene coupled with Fayette; Lawrence join Butler; Jefferson join Clearfield and Centre; Franklin added to Somerset, Bedford and Fulton; Armstrong joined to Indiana.

"At least it will guarantee a breathing spell against hasty action in removal or alterations to historical buildings of educational value," Stiefel told the Senate in introducing his bills last night.

Other new Senate bills would: Appropriate 3½ million dollars to the Mines Department for continuation of the commonwealth's mine sealing program during the next two years—Hugh J. McMenamin (D—Lackawanna) and Paul L. Wagner (R—Schuylkill).

Permit parking authorities to lease portions of their facilities for the sale of gasoline or automobile accessories but not to engage directly in such sales or provide repair service—Benjamin R. Donolow (D—Phila.).

Eliminate bus stop signs at school bus loading zones—John H. Dent (D—Westmoreland) and Rowland B. Mahany (R—Crawford).

Accidental electrocutions in the United States are about 1,000 a year or seven per million population compared to nine per million 25 years ago.

Disagree On Who Gets Most Domestic Ulcers In These Days

By DOROTHY ROE

A favorite summer subject of male writers is the contention that American wives are something like man-eating sharks—that they're spoiled, pampered, useless, selfish and dangerous to the well-being of husbands.

John Fischer, editor of Harper's magazine, claims in his current issue that U.S. wives are killing their husbands, inducing ulcers, high blood pressure and heart attacks, by trying to make them over. He writes:

"Never before in history has any nation devoted so large a share of its brains and resources to the sole purpose of keeping its women greased, deodorized, corseted, enshrined in chrome convertibles, curled, slenderized, rejuvenated and relieved of all physical labor."

Now honestly, Mr. Fischer, did you ever actually know a wife who was able to change her husband? Think hard.

I've known a lot of wives who tried, but in the end John was still biting his fingernails or telling dull stories or dropping ashes on the rug, just as he did in the romantic days of courtship. And in the end it was Mary who got ulcers from frustration, not John.

Our modern promotion-minded industrial empire does devote a lot of attention, it's true, to selling cosmetics, corsets and convertibles to women. But did you ever examine the totals on sales of men's cosmetics, Mr. Fischer? They run very close to the sales of women's beautifiers.

Slightly Dated

Your picture of the pampered, idle wife, Mr. Fischer, is graphic but slightly dated. There was a day when most wives stayed home and gave tea parties. Those were the days before income taxes and before the disappearance of domestic servants from the household scene.

Today one out of every three married women holds down a full-time job outside her home. She gets home from work just as tired as her husband is, but usually takes over the chores of preparing dinner and washing the dishes anyway.

Better Look Again

Since she feels that perhaps she is losing something of feminine charm and appeal by becoming a wage earner, she probably works harder than ever to keep her household running smoothly and also puts extra effort into keeping herself attractive.

Moreover, it's good for her. She has discovered that the busier she is, the less time she has to dwell on vague fears and frustrations that beset idle women. She stays younger, gets more fun out of life and usually manages to be more interested and understanding toward her husband's business problems too.

Take another look, Mr. Fischer.

WRANGLE OVER HOUSING BILL BACK IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The public housing wrangle went back to the House Tuesday.

On Monday the Senate accepted the conferees' report—45,000 public housing units for one year, an additional 100,000 units in the military housing program and a new $500-million-dollar program of slum clearance.

What the House will do with it was uncertain. House Republicans on the conference committee refused to sign the compromise.

House Opposed Bill

Last Friday the House voted a bill with no public housing. A joint committee took this zero and the 135,000 units a year for four years approved by the Senate and arrived at the compromise. President Eisenhower had asked for 35,000 units a year for two years.

The compromise bill's main features were:

1. Provide an additional four billion dollars—estimated to be enough for one year—to continue the Federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance program. FHA estimates it will exhaust its present authority this fall.

2. Provide the 45,000 public housing units minus the present restrictions requiring public housing construction to be geared to slum clearance and other urban redevelopment programs.

3. Authorize a $1,363,500,000 military housing program in addition to that already authorized. Sponsors said this would provide slightly more than 100,000 units.

4. Launch a new $500-million-dollar program of slum clearance and urban renewal projects for the next two years.

5. Place a 12½-million-dollar ceiling on FHA insurance on any single project.

6. Limit to $2,500 FHA insured loans for home improvement, instead of the proposed boost to $3,000 which the Senate had voted.

DELAYS CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said Tuesday President Eisenhower will hold a news conference

Soldier's Body Is Found Near Tracks

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—An autopsy has been ordered in the death of a soldier whose body was found on Monday along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks near the Bristol station in Bucks County.

The body was taken by the Division to Valley Forge Army Hospital near here for the autopsy today.

Police said papers found in the soldier's clothing bore the name Pvt. Joseph J. O'Connell and the address 521 W. 166th St., New York City. The papers, police said, indicated the young man was attached to Company I, 2nd Armored Regiment, Fort Meade, Md.

The soldier apparently died of head injuries. Police discounted the possibility he had been struck by a train. The detective added, however, he may have struck his head in falling from a train.

Threat Of Milk Strike Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—Milk supply lines to the New York metropolitan area remained intact Tuesday although still threatened by the possibility of a tank truck drivers' strike.

The AFL Teamsters union, representing 1,000 drivers for 23 milk hauling companies, had originally set a strike deadline for Sunday midnight but then postponed it indefinitely.

The union and employers have not met since Sunday when the negotiators for the drivers rejected three separate wage increase offers. They would have provided hourly boosts of 7 cents for one year, 15 cents in two years or 25 cents over three years.

The union is seeking immediate base pay increases of 43 to 53 cents over present wage scales ranging from $1.57 to $1.77 per hour. The union also wants a shorter work week and other fringe benefits.

ence this week after Congress adjourns. Ordinarily, the President meets newsmen on Wednesdays. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said, however, Eisenhower would be unable to do so today because he is tied up with the end of session business.

MOVE TO GUARD UNDERGROUND WATER SUPPLY

HARRISBURG (AP)—A proposal designed to protect Pennsylvania's underground water supply headed toward speedy House consideration today as drought conditions continued to cause shortages throughout the state.

The House Conservation and wild life committee chairman Harris G. Breth (D-Clearfield) predicted the measure would gain committee approval and advance to the floor of the House.

It would subject to regulation any well producing over 10 gallons a minute or 14,400 gallons a day. Exempted would be wells drilled for individual residences.

"I expect the committee to amend the bill so that wells drilled by farmers on their own or leased land would be excluded," Breth added.

He disclosed that a companion measure, providing for the licensing of all persons drilling wells, probably will be sidetracked for good.

"That one would penalize the coal industry in its dewatering problems," Breth said. He explained that under it every time a mine operator had to drill a deep mine well for dewatering purposes he would have to buy a license "and go through a lot of red tape."

Faulty Equipment Blamed For Blast

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A Chester County coroner's jury has ruled that the July 20 explosion of bottled gas which killed a mother and her three-year-old son was due partly to faulty equipment of the company which serviced the household liquid gas tank.

The six-man jury sat Monday night and was unable to determine what caused the explosion. Coroner Thomas Monteth accepted their verdict and said he was dropping the case.

The victims in the blast were Mrs. Mildred Moore, 43, and her son, Robin, who were hurled 25 feet by the blast at a shed near their home in Coatesville.

Handicapped Bill Is Ready For House

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader's proposals providing for further emphasis on the education and training of handicapped children is ready for House floor action after gaining approval of the Appropriations Committee.

The bill provides for a survey of the number and types of handicapped children in all school districts outside Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Another bill sent to the floor by the Appropriations Committee would rename the Mines Department the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries. It also would set aside $100,000 for the administration of the house-passed gas storage regulation act.

3 TRUCK LINE EMPLOYEES DIE IN 3 TRAGEDIES

KIMBALL, Neb. (AP)—This is a story of tragedy and things that happen in three.

Three employees of the Rogers truck line of Sidney, Neb., died in accidents bordering on the freakish in five days. All happened in the oil field sections surrounding this area.

Last Thursday, Lloyd Thomas Claret, Wyo., died when a section of catwalk fell on him as he braced it during the erection of a derrick.

Sunday, driver L. D. Arnold, Kimball, died when the boom of his truck came in contact with a high-voltage power line.

His Head Crushed On Monday, Clyde Scott Gibbs, Sidney, died under the weight of a load of pipe.

Gibbs stopped his truck, then got out of the cab to put a suitcase in the open front of the trailer. As he stepped between the cab and trailer, the truck rolled backward. The truck rolled a few feet into a truck being loaded with heavy materials. The impact sent the pipe in Gibbs' trailer smashing forward, crushing his head against the cab.

COLOR ADDED TO HOME BY SMALL ART OBJECTS

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

The small accessory in the home can go a long way as a color accent. A preview of the New York Antiques Fair shows that numbers of colorful little decor pieces now are available at budget prices, a trend in antique shops across the country.

Take a yellow-orange-brown color scheme, popular at the moment. It may be perked up with anything from a handsome brown vase selling for $4 or a brass spice container at $7 to a higher priced yellow gold color Ming porcelain camel or a fine North Indian bronze of the dancing goddess Siva. Or perhaps a 16th century Burmese standing Buddha of alabaster is more to your liking. These complement the Oriental room too.

If you are seeking a green accent for a mustard-bronze-green combination, a large bowl of Hungarian pottery 250 years old may be the answer. Good harmony for a green wall could be an old print or map with a mustard-gold aged look.

Aged Steins
Masculine tastes would be pleased with old steins such as a French green Majolica one dated 1850 exhibited at the fair. One smoky colored Bohemian glass stein has a pewter top.

Plasks, bottles, ink wells and ink pots are good bets for a few dollars. Pale lettuce green Bristol glass toilet sets, powder jars and barber bottles are chic for bedroom, bath or powder room.

Staffordshire china, Wedgwood in pale green or Tiffany iridescent glass in mustard to green shades are other possibilities in this color range.

Canary yellow, honey amber and deep amber pressed glass, as well as sought-after amberina glass are other chic accents. Vaseline colored sandwich glass available in candlesticks, fluted vases, whale oil lamps, compote dishes, egg cups and glass drawer knobs are fun with turquoise and charcoal as well as yellows and greens.

Popular Decor
Blue, violet and mauve form another popular decor combination now getting a boost from the antique source. Powder boxes, vases and dishes may be found in Wedgwood Jasperware (blue). Bristol glass is available in rich shades of blue, pink, amethyst. Tall bottles in soft rose-amethyst Pittsburgh glass or German wine glasses of amethyst glass may double duty as flower vases. Cranberry glass decanters, lamp shades, water glasses, scent bot-

Richmond Is Jinx Town For President

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Nineteen of Richmond's Democrats for Eisenhower were invited to the White House. The Richmond News Leader gives this report of a part of the conversation with the President.

Coleman Wortham Jr., invited the President to Virginia to see "the best duck hunting marsh in the United States."

"Do I have to go through Richmond?" the President asked. On one visit, he recalled, he was hustled past some dignitaries he was supposed to greet. Then of course the speaker's platform collapsed with him on his 1952 campaign stop.

"Mr. President, excuse me," one member of the party cut in, "but the Republicans built that platform. They wouldn't let us near it. Democratic platforms don't collapse."

Parking Sign Causes One-Man Rebellion

SOUTH CHARLESTOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Grocer John Ray, a Republican, was peeved with the city's Democratic administration anyway. When a "no parking" sign appeared in front of his store, he boiled over — uprooted the sign and heaved it into an empty lot.

GOP Mayor Joseph W. Londerece said a stenographic error in the minutes of a council meeting put the sign in the wrong spot.

"That still doesn't justify Ray's taking the law into his own hands," he said. "There's no politics involved. I don't even know the gentleman."

DETROIT (AP) — Charles Walker estimated fire damage at $300 after a bird picked up a lighted cigarette and deposited it in its nest in his garage.

Plates or fruit bowls are a boon to those striving for a pink and rose accent. Some decorators fill clear glass decanters with red wine for a lovely color effect. These come in shapes of the Eiffel Tower, human figures, shoe, fish, etc.

Chinese porcelain vases of the early 18th century come in lovely rose red shades, in classic shapes ideally suited for modern use. Italian soft-paste pieces made in 1880 of terra cotta and black on cream pattern with Greek figures sell for around $25. Small Roman and Egyptian oil lamps 2,000 years old may be had for around $6 to $8. Primitive pottery—Peruvian, American Indian, Mexican, African—in orange, red and brown clay go well with modern settings. So do collections of animals or other figures in pottery, porcelain or glass.

Old vases may be made into lamps or used as is. Bowls make attractive centerpiece receptacles.

NOTED FAMILIES RETURNING TO WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shades of the Federalists are hovering over Washington—a namesake of John Marshall newly-sworn into the Supreme Court, and a descendant of Alexander Hamilton, closely linked to the treasury. John Marshall Harlan, 55, the handsome New Yorker, the Supreme Court's newest and youngest member, bears the name of the country's second chief justice as did his grandfather, also an associate Supreme Court justice, who served 14 years.

Alexander Hamilton's great-granddaughter, Helen Hamilton Woods, was Washington's "bride of the year." Her husband is Warren Randolph Burgess, career banker. As under secretary he's next to top man in the Treasury Department which Hamilton first headed in George Washington's administration. Marshall and Hamilton were leaders in the group of strong central government proponents in the era following the Revolutionary War.

The Harlans are selling the apartment they purchased a year ago in New York's swank Beekman Place, just after the justice's appointment to the United States Court of Appeals. "John said it looked like we finally could settle down and stay in one place for a while," Mrs. Harlan said recently. "I had just gotten the apartment all finished last fall when we heard about the court appointment." Since a job on the Supreme Court bench is for life, it looks now like the Harlans will really settle. They have bought a charming white-painted brick house with a lovely garden in Georgetown.

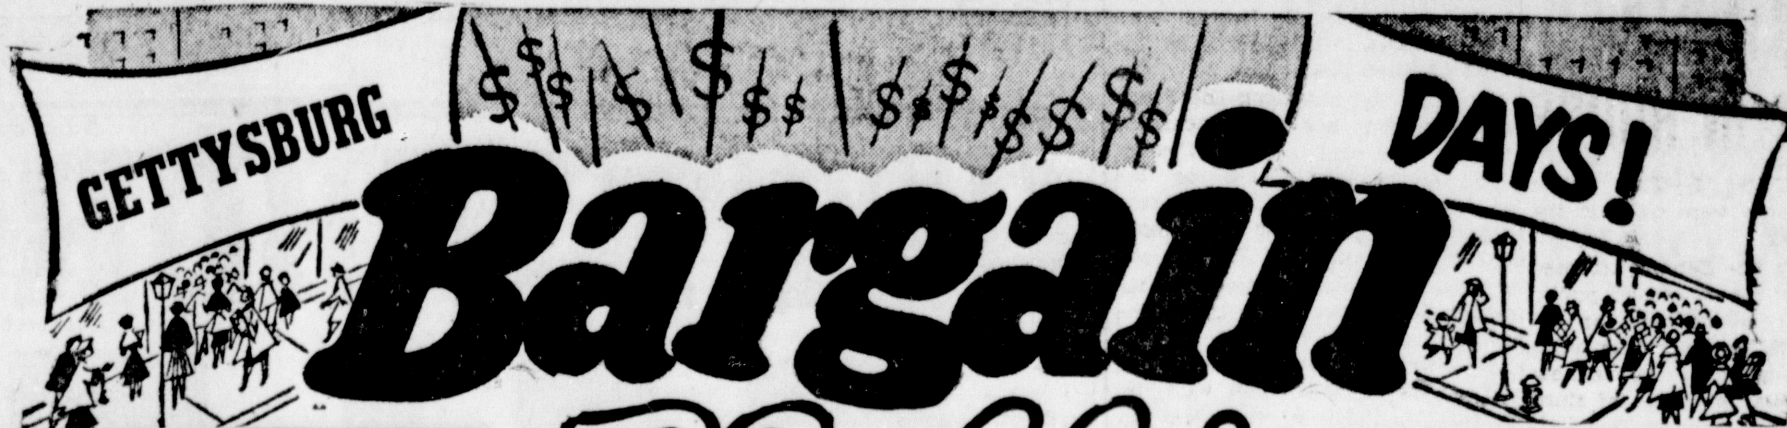

Kin Of Morgan

The new Mrs. Burgess is a niece of noted financier J. Pierpont Morgan. Her first husband was the late Col. Arthur Woods, former New York police commissioner and later director of the restoration of Williamsburg. She also lives in historic Georgetown in one of the handsomest and most historic residences. It's the spectacularly renovated coach house of the beautiful Robert Todd Lincoln estate facing N Street.

COTTAGE HILLS, Ill. (AP) — Lacking money for a coonskin cap, Jerry Powell, 10, had his dad give him a special hair cut.

Following Jerry's instructions for a Davy Crockett cut, Powell provided a shaved head with a curled forelock left sprouting above the forehead, and a bristle of hair on the back of the head in the approximate shape of a coontail.

Jerry says he likes it better than a coonskin cap because, "I don't have to take it off when I go to bed at night."

NEW MAGIC IS PERFORMED ON GRAPEFRUIT BY FLORIDA COOKS

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor
There's nothing like travel to spur a cook's imagination. We were sure we had read or thought of everything that can be done with a grapefruit until we made our first visit to Florida. Eating our way from East to West coast, Palm Beach to Tampa, we were struck by a new-to-us appetizer served at a quaint little inn on Lake Wales.

Grapefruit halves were broiled with spice and sweetening and centered with nut-brown chicken livers and tiny bouquets of parsley and pimiento. The unexpected combination of flavors was intriguing. And of course it gave us ideas. Here they are, along with our version of the inspiration. Try these grapefruit appetizers, for a pleasant start, when you are having a "ladies' lunch."

To prepare the grapefruit for all these appetizers, cut fruit in half. Remove any seeds with small sharp knife; do not cut out center. Cut around each section, loosening fruit from dividing membranes. For easy eating, do not cut through membranes at outer edge of fruit. In heating the grapefruit, do not preheat the broiler unless manufacturer's directions for your range call for preheating.

Broiled Grapefruit With Chicken Livers

Ingredients: 3 grapefruit (cut in half with sections loosened from dividing membranes), 6 tablespoons honey, 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 6 fresh or thawed frozen chicken livers, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, parsley sprigs, pimiento strips.

Method: Spread 1 tablespoon honey and sprinkle 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon over each grapefruit half. Place chicken livers on aluminum foil; dot livers with butter. Place on broiler rack so top of grapefruit halves are 3 or 4 inches below high heat. Broil 5 minutes or until grapefruit is heated through and tinged with brown; watch closely and adjust rack or heat if necessary. Turn liver and leave in broiler longer than grapefruit if necessary to cook through. To serve, place one liver in center of each grapefruit half; garnish liver with parsley and pimiento. Serve at once as a first course. Makes 6 servings.

half with sections loosened from dividing membranes), 6 tablespoons dark brown sugar, 3/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 pound brown-and-serve sausage links.

Method: Sprinkle 1 tablespoon brown sugar and 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg over each grapefruit half. Place on broiler rack so top of grapefruit halves are 3 or 4 inches below high heat. Broil 5 minutes or until grapefruit is heated through and tinged with brown; watch closely and adjust rack or heat if necessary. While grapefruit is broiling, cut each sausage link in half crosswise and then in half lengthwise. Place 6 slices of sausages spoke fashion on each grapefruit half. Broil 5 minutes longer or until sausage is browned; watch carefully. Serve at once as a first course. Makes 6 servings.

Broiled Grapefruit With Shrimp

Ingredients: 3 grapefruit (cut in half with sections loosened from dividing membranes), 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons honey, 1-3 cup tomato catchup, 1/2 teaspoon bottled horseradish, 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce, 1 1/2 teaspoons lime juice, 3/4 pound medium-size shrimp (cooked and shelled and deveined).

Method: Cream the 2 tablespoons butter and honey. Spread over grapefruit halves. Place on broiler rack so top of grapefruit halves are 3 to 4 inches below high heat. Broil 5 minutes or until grapefruit is heated through and tinged with brown; watch closely and adjust rack or heat if necessary. Meanwhile stir catchup, horseradish, Tabasco and lime juice together. Top each hot grapefruit half with 3 or 4 shrimp and spoon catchup mixture over shrimp. Return to broiler for a few minutes or until shrimp is heated; watch carefully. Serve at once as a first course. Makes 6 servings.

Another highlight of our Florida eating tour was some afternoon refreshment we were served when we stopped to visit during a journey up the Indian River. Tall glasses of ice-cold, fresh and hand-reamed grapefruit juice were accompanied by high wedges of pound cake with a fluffy texture and a golden-brown crust. A fine go-together to remember for warm-weather porch parties!

"Utterly Delectable"

At a buffet lunch near Windermere we had an utterly delectable menu that other hostesses might like to emulate. Crisply browned chicken, brushed with a mixture of honey and soy sauce, was served on a huge platter. On another platter were avocados, cut into thirds and heaped with shrimp and fresh strips of hearts of palm. (You might have to do without the hearts of palm unless you can get them canned.) A choice of dressings — French or Russian — accompanied the avocado salad. Hot biscuits — small and rich — made luscious eating with both the chicken and the salad. For dessert, luscious ripe red strawberries were arranged on individual platters around a mound of powdered sugar. And to top it all off came tiny brown sugar tarts and coffee! If you want to treat your family and friends to something scrumptious, do try this menu.

DANGEROUS SPOT
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — The Cascade Pharmacy is beginning to think maybe it took an untenable position. It is at the top of a "T" formed by U.S. 16 and the Grand Rapids Bypass, about 10 miles southeast of Grand Rapids. Three cars have smashed into it in a year. Each time there was about $5,000 damage and the first crash killed a customer. The U. S. Bureau of Mines was founded in 1910.

AQUALUNG DIVER TELLS OF HIS TRAVELS IN AND OUT OF OCEAN

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — A kind of hypnotizing science-fiction figure — a figure with web feet, mittened hands, three lungs, tubes wrapped around where head and neck should be, an oval mask like the maw of a monster, belting and webbing here and there, a humped back made of a long fat tube —

That's the fellow I thought I was going to have lunch with.

But I wouldn't have recognized him. He wasn't like his photographs. He was just another regular-looking fellow in soft hat, glasses, with a wide bald spot, a healthy tan, and a command of several languages — French, his native tongue; English; and the lulling, soothing language of the underwater world.

He didn't have that third lung with him, or the other paraphernalia, but he is Philippe Diolle, the aqualung.

You might think all you need to be, to explore underseas, is an athlete. Diolle's books, looks and talk prove the contrary. To be sure, he's a swimmer, diver and fisherman. But he's also linguist, archeologist, almost a lawyer, and also an ex-newspaperman.

Archeology won his allegiance when he was at the Louvre, at a time when the great museum was the big place for scholars in that field.

Then — "I wanted to live," he said, meaning he wasn't getting rich. "I like to live," he emphasized, and became newspaperman and editor of two big Paris dailies. He worked on Combat, with Albert Camus, on Match, on Beaux Arts, and on Paris-Soir. There was a day when he got out 22 editions, from dawn to nightfall, to keep up with fast-breaking war news. He was a roving correspondent, traveling widely in Africa.

ARMY 'SKYCARS' — Self-propelled cars, developed by Army research engineers, can shuttle 20 tons of cargo on cables from ship to shore without use of piers.

"I loved to swim, and my friend, Philippe Tailliez, captain in the French navy, introduced me to the aqualung. I dived with it first at Toulon — and for Paris-Soir I wrote the very first piece ever written about it. I did underwater hunting. With my special underwater gun I shot an arrow right through a finger — my own finger.

"Now I hunt for other things." He has found ancient Greek wine jars, statuary, coins, remnants of huge pillars, sites of the docks of antiquity, skeletons of old boats. He has traced Roman roads. He has found underwater proof, particularly in the size of the craft, that the Romans sailed regularly to far-off India.

When he's not under water, he likes the driest of dry land, the Sahara. His book, "The Most Beautiful Desert in the World," out already in Paris, is due here later this year from his publisher Julian Messner. He goes back to the Sahara in July.

Isn't that pretty hot? "I'd rather be there in July than in hot New York."

"Don't you have to be rich to travel like this on your own archeological safaris?" I asked, remembering I recently talked to a man who spent half a million dollars exploring in Arabia.

"I take three camels," he said, "and drivers, and one guide and one cook, and to get way down into the farthest southern Sahara and back, and stay there a month, costs me just about $100."

His new book, "The Gates of Sicily," tells of a trip he and his wife took around Sicily, driving their car and swimming, too, or one foot in the water and one ashore.

Diolle's wife appears in text and photo as Mme. Monsenergue. She has dived to 65 meters, which Diolle believes may be the deepest ever dived by a woman. It was she who once had one of these narrow squeezes about which Diolle does not write, and does not talk, either, unless you insist.

Close Call
"We were perhaps 45 meters down, where your mind gets a bit hazy. My wife had used up her main supply of oxygen, but could not remember how to turn the screw in the tank on her back to let in the reserve. I was right beside her, but of course she couldn't tell me. Then I sensed that she was in trouble, saw her eyes dilate, realized what was the matter

LUGGAGE PILES UP FOR TOUR OF ORCHESTRA

Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — When the New York Philharmonic Symphony travels, it travels with piles and piles of odds and ends besides music and instruments.

In the nine-car train that sets out right after the season's last regular concert here, to carry the orchestra on its first coast-to-coast tour in 34 years —

One man will take his bicycle so he can see the sights whenever the daylight stops are long enough.

There'll be packs of playing cards and chess sets.

A lot of the orchestra players — and also conductor Dimitri Mitropoulos himself — take along their own coffee pots, and some carry thermos bottles.

Some of the fonder husbands and and turned the screw. Afterward she told me she'd been planning, desperately, to shoot straight for the surface. . . . It was either the bends, the diver's menace, or suffocation."

fathers fix up their roomettes with pin-up snapshots of wife and children.

Four enormous wardrobe trunks will hold the afternoon and evening dress of the 107 musicians. Management takes care of these "uniforms" but the men must look out for street clothes — and you can tell the Philharmonic special whizzing through the country or parked in the railroad yards by the nylon shirts hanging in the Pullman windows to dry, and dry again and again from here to Detroit, to Kansas City, to Albuquerque, to Los Angeles, to Portland, and so on to a total of 30 United States and Canadian cities.

No Pets
"Any dogs, cats or parrots?"

"No!" is the emphatic reply in one voice of the two managers who are making the trip, Bruno Zirato and George E. Judd Jr.

Going along will be the wives of two conductors, Guido Cantelli and Franco Aulenti; Mitropoulos is a bachelor; two librarians; two stage hands, with four more to be hired at every stop; the orchestra personnel manager, a member of the press department, and a souvenir-book man.

Six Pullmans will be home to these people. They'll have a coach for playroom, and a baggage car for dress clothes, instruments, scores. The train crew has a car of its own, and a diner is added when the schedule requires it. "All across the country," says Zirato, "Greek restaurants watch for Greek-born Mitropoulos and prepare their best dishes for him. The men themselves eat well. When we get to a city I'm some times tipped off to a good new restaurant, but when I reach it I find a dozen players already there ahead of me."

Some Save

"Some of them save their money. They buy a loaf of bread and cheese, and prepare espresso coffee for breakfast or a light lunch."

"It's a distance of almost 10,000 miles," says Judd. "And it's a job. I began work on it more than a year ago. It's even a problem for Pullman — think of having more than 200 sheets a day, for instance. Then there's laundry, for which we arrange 12-hour service in hotels where possible."

This Philharmonic trip, which goes as far west as San Francisco, plus the orchestra's fall trip to Europe and as far east as Athens, will carry the orchestra about half way around the world. Do the men like it? "They love it," says Zirato. "It gives them more work, pep them up, they always play their best."

Gift Crosses Ocean, Red Tape To Israel

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — An expensive hospital machine is in use at the Hadassa Municipal Hospital at long last, reports received here from Israel say. It is an electrocardiograph (a complicated apparatus to measure heart action) which belonged to the late Dr. Henry H. Haft.

His widow and Dr. Irving L. Ershler who took over Dr. Haft's practice when he died in 1952 wanted to give it to Israel. But red tape surrounding international shipments of scientific equipment stopped them.

It was surplus, because Dr. Ershler had his own machine and it lay in storage until Mrs. Mark Silverman came to the rescue. She packed it in two 35-pound units and took it as hand luggage on a trip to Israel. She reports the crates proved a bit uncomfortable sliding around the stateroom in a heavy storm, but she tells how Dr. A. Abramovitz met her at the dock to say there was urgent need for the machine.

Dr. Ershler says he was able to tell Mrs. Haft that her husband's machine, with his name plate still on it, was in active use before she died in a hospital here.

ASKS PUBLIC TO THINK BETTER OF POLITICIANS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Eugene McCarthy, wife of the Democratic congressman from Minnesota, believes that the public should think more highly of politicians so that more good people will get into politics.

"Most people don't have enough pride and understanding in government," says Mrs. McCarthy. She's the mother of three small young-sisters and a former professor of literature at St. Joseph's College, St. Paul, and always identifies herself as "a politician's wife."

The congressman, former head of the Sociology Department at St. Thomas College in St. Paul, and professor of economics at St. John's University in Minneapolis, is serving his fourth term on Capitol Hill. In representing the "little man in the district with his problems," the personal services a congressman renders are "out of all proportion to his office," Abigail McCarthy explains. "As government gets more complex, some people only think of their own congressman as the one to turn to for help. Just by the nature of the way he is elected, he is much more avail-

Two-Month-Old Tot Has Criminal Record

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — Tiny Tina probably is the youngest person with a police record.

Frank Kelly, a retired Navy chief, brought his daughter, Katherine Tina, two months old, into the North Chicago police station and asked that she be fingerprinted and footprinted for her baby book.

While this was being done, Kelly suggested that she be charged with something, so the summons could be posted in her baby book. Police obliged and charged her with crying in the police station.

BUTTERMILK FRESHENS UP YOUR LEMON PIE

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A lemon pie that's as fresh as springtime! Want to try it? The pie is delicate, fluffy, of the chiffon type, but the recipe has a new twist. Buttermilk goes into the filling.

Make your pie look pretty! Circle it with green leaves and twists of lemon centered with maraschino cherry. Or try this trick from a friend of ours: Garnish the pie filling with some of those jellied candy fruit slices that are widely available. Choose lemon flavor, of course, for this pie. Or roll a few extra graham crackers when you are preparing the crust for the pie, and sprinkle the crumbs over the filling.

And here's a tip to bear in mind when you are preparing the crust. Put your graham-cracker crumb mixture into your pie plate; you'll need a 9-inch size plate for this dessert. Then set an 8-inch pie plate on top of the crumbs and press them firmly into an even layer on the bottom and sides of the pan.

Buttermilk Lemon Chiffon Pie
Ingredients: 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3 eggs (separated), 1 cup buttermilk, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1-3 cup sugar, one 9-inch baked graham-cracker crust. Method: Mix together the gelatin, 1/2 cup sugar and salt in top of the double boiler. Beat egg yolks and buttermilk until combined; add to gelatin mixture. Cook over boiling water, stirring until gelatin is dissolved and mix-

May Make Fortune On Lake Salvage Job

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Salvaging an ocean-going ship sunk in 70 feet of Lake Michigan water will be undertaken this summer by Max Gene Nohl, professional deep sea diver. If he succeeds, he can make a fortune; if he fails, it won't cost him a dime.

The prize is the Dutch Orange line freighter, Prins Willem V, which sank off Milwaukee last Oct. 14.

The 285 foot motorship was valued by insurers at $1,250,000. The 750 tons of general cargo the Willem was carrying was valued at $750,000. Nohl has a contract with the United States Army engineers which calls for removal of the sunken ship or its demolition.

Nohl will be paid $50,000 for the job. The title of the ship was turned over to him by the engineers. Nohl said he plans to raise the Willem by sealing the four hatches with special covers; then pumping air into the vessel until it becomes buoyant.

Under the contract he has 180 days to salvage or destroy the Willem.

PAINFUL INVENTION
ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — S. P. Vidal, Internal Revenue Service district director, got his hand pinched in a mop wringer not long ago. Now he's looking for a buyer of a squeezable sponge mop for which he's received U.S. Patent 2,648,086.

POSES FOR TOURISTS
HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Last Chance Gulch — this Montana Capital City's main street — has pots of flowers hanging from its lamp posts for the tourists. The blooms turn thickens — about 8 minutes. Remove from heat; cool. Stir in lemon juice and rind. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add 1-3 cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture. Turn into pie shell; chill until firm.

CROCKETT WATCH
ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky. (AP) — Phil Watkins has on display at his jewelry shop a watch presented to Davy Crockett by President Andrew Jackson. On the back is engraved, "Go Ahead, D. Crockett."

The average American family uses 788 tin cans a year.

Man Faces Charges On Reckless Flying

HARRISBURG (AP) — Floyd Shive, 34, of Halifax, faced charges of reckless flying today in the crash of his private plane Saturday in a field near his home after hitting a utility wire.

Shive and his brother-in-law, Ray Zimmerman, 44, a passenger in the plane were injured in the accident.

Cpl. Earl Moore, of the State Police Montoursville sub-station, filed the charge Monday before Alderman Elizabeth Armstrong. Moore is an investigator for the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission.

In their first 11 games with the Phillies this season the Cubs won seven. This is one more victory than they won from the same team during the entire 1954 season.

SAND IS LASTING TOY FOR CHILD TO PLAY WITH

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
The Associated Press

In planning toys for your child it's good to have a few things he can grow up with.

Sand is something a child loves to play with for years and years.

When the baby is a year old he will enjoy pouring sand from one bucket to another. As he gets a little older, he will like to strain it through a strainer or beat it with an egg beater, or make pies and cakes, or just make holes in the sand.

The still older child will make more elaborate constructions in the sand. He may make roads and run toy cars on them. He makes a farm, and stocks the barn and pastures with animals. He may build houses and schools and playgrounds. He'll work out all sorts of imaginative ideas in the sand.

Many Hours Of Play

A sand pile in your backyard will not only provide your child with many hours of wholesome play, but it's likely it will be the center of much neighborhood play. Even the big boys will come over now and then and build an airport or a railroad yard or some other elaborate project. Usually the little ones love to have the big boys come, and if you give them a little friendly encouragement — friendly words and maybe a plate of cookies now and then — you will find that your children have a delightful and valuable companionship with other children of all ages.

Ordinary yellow building sand is quite satisfactory. In fact, it lends itself to more elaborate constructions than white sea sand. It's much cheaper too — unless you live on the beach. If you live in the country or any place where you have lots of space, a load of building sand dumped in a sunny spot is all you need.

If your space is limited, you will need a sandbox so that the sand can be kept more or less in one spot. Get a sandbox as big as your space will allow. A large wooden box, made with tiny cracks between the boards at the bottom to let the rain drain off makes a good sandbox. A seat 10 inches to a foot wide all the way around is desirable. If the box is provided with a cover of either wood or heavy canvas, it can be used sooner after a rainstorm than if it is necessary for the sand to dry out in the sun and air.

Sand Toys Needed

A few sand toys will be needed. Something to dig with, old spoons, small shovels, shells (obtained from a fish market) are good. Pails, buckets, tin cans, boxes, small molds are all useful in the sand.

A flour sifter, a strainer, an egg beater, a rolling pin and many other kitchen utensils can be used. Later on, toy cars, trains, trucks, airplanes, figures of people and animals will all be enjoyed in the sand.

Anne had been playing in sand for years and loving it. One day her parents took her to the ocean to see the surf and dabble in the water. Anne took a brief look at the expanse of blue water, then clapped her hands with glee: "What an e-nor-mous sandpile!" she shouted and began to dig.

Wheelchair Doesn't Block Her Education

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Although she has been confined to a wheelchair since 1940 by polio, Iris Mabel Klem of Miami, Fla., hasn't let it interfere with her education. This year she received her master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh. In 1948 she received her bachelor's degree from the University of Miami and four years later was awarded a master's degree by the University of North Carolina.

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — The 100 million dollar Straits of Mackinac Bridge, which will link Michigan's two peninsulas, will have two elevators. Each will travel the equivalent, up and down, of an elevator in a 47-story office building. The elevators, to carry service crews, will be in the bridge's two main suspension towers, which will rise 552 feet above the water.

Says Davy Crockett Killed First Bear At 8

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Davy Crockett didn't kill a bear when he was three, according to one of his nearest living relatives. The first killing by the famed Indian fighter and frontiersman didn't occur until he was eight.

Contrary to song and story, that is the word passed on by Mrs. Margie Ree Cohn.

According to family legends, Mrs. Cohn said Davy Crockett was responsible for obtaining meat for the family when he was eight because his father and older brothers were too busy with the crops.

To do this job, Davy was given one bullet a day. If he shot and missed he still had to get the meat. In a short time, he rarely missed.

Officials of the 1938 Texas Centennial compiled a genealogy tracing Mrs. Cohn's relationship to Crockett.

Crockett and his first wife had three children, two boys and one girl. The daughter, Margaret Finley Crockett, married Wiley Flowers. They were the parents of Mrs. Cohn's grandfather, David Flowers.

David's son, Thomas, was Mrs. Cohn's father, making Davy Crockett her great-great grandfather.

EXPERT SAYS ART BELONGS IN KITCHEN, TOO

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Art belongs in the kitchen as well as the parlor, says Lester Gaba, Missouri-born columnist and fashion show producer who has just staged his first exhibit of "Paintings for Gourmets."

Giant vegetables and fruits form the theme for Gaba's collection of a score of king-size paintings, ranging from baseball-size peas in a pod to a 6-foot single carrot. Says he:

"Today's casual way of living has changed all the old ideas about which rooms are for what. Now that the kitchen has become the focal point of modern homes, paintings can move into the kitchen along with the guests."

The artist started his kitchen paintings as a hobby a couple of years ago, when he painted a slice of watermelon for his own beach cottage and planned his kitchen decor around it — watermelon pink walls, black and white checked cafe curtains and floor.

Watermelons, Too

"My friends saw it and wanted me to do watermelon paintings for them, too," he says. "I did so many watermelons that I had spots before my eyes, so I started exploring the possibilities of other garden produce."

"Did you ever look at the delicate colors in a stalk of asparagus, or a ripe tomato cut in two, or an orange? It's amazing."

In the current collection, Gaba has king-size paintings of a single red onion, a scallion, a mushroom, an orange cut in two, a tomato the size of a washbasin and various groupings of asparagus, as well as most other garden variety vegetables. All are giant size and simply framed.

Bread Painting

A center of attraction is a painting of a loaf of French bread, with a wicker bread-basket frame.

"Today's hostess entertains in the kitchen as much as in the living room," says Gaba, "so the kitchen should be pleasing to the eye as well as the appetite."

LIGHT THAT FAILED

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP) — Traffic piled up at a busy intersection while a driver of the lead car sat calmly behind the wheel. The driver told police he was waiting for the light to change. But there wasn't any light.

The judge said $100 fine and thirty days in jail when the driver admitted that, while maybe not seeing double, he was "in no condition to drive."

BY THE NUMBERS

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The 15 persons who organized an oil company here finally selected as a name: "The Fifteen Oil Co."

2ND LUTHERAN PASTOR FACES HERESY CHARGE

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The liberal interpretations given the doctrine of his church have brought another young suburban Milwaukee minister face to face with a charge of heresy.

The Rev. John Gerberding, 33, must stand a formal church trial on specific counts of doctrinal deviation, an investigating committee of the Northwest Synod, United Lutheran Church, voted unanimously Monday night.

Pastor Gerberding, whose church is at Menomonee Falls, sat with and tried to aid the losing defense of the Rev. George Crist Jr., of Durham, who was convicted of similar charges at a two-day trial last week.

Cases To Be Reviewed

Pastor Crist's suspension from his pulpit was recommended, and Dr. Paul E. Bishop, of Minneapolis, who headed the investigating committee, said official suspension was only a matter of time.

The cases will be reviewed by the synod conference in Milwaukee next May, with penalty to be set at that time. It might range from a rebuke to ouster from the Lutheran ministry.

Pastor Gerberding was questioned five hours Monday on the nature of his beliefs. He told newsmen that he was prepared to discuss with authorities the manner in which scriptures might be read.

Like Pastor Crist, he denied that "the Bible must be received in a very exact and precise way," and declared that the Lutheran Church has "no cut and dried manner for receiving the Scriptures."

Gold was first discovered in California in 1848, 10 days before the treaty ending the Mexican war and transferring the territory to the United States was signed.

Asks Transfer Of Two Slander Suits

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Lt. Col. Walter Callahan, facing two $10,000 slander suits, has asked the federal district court here to take jurisdiction in both cases.

The two suits were filed by John F. Crozman of West Lynn, Mass., and Miles Miller of Wormleysburg, Pa., both airmen second class at Tinker Field. The two airmen allege in their petitions they were slandered July 6 by the Tinker Field officer and each seek $10,000 damages.

Senate Postpones Sewage Refund Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate postponed final action Monday night on a bill earmarking $2,600,000 for continuation of the commonwealth's refund plan to municipalities building sewage disposal facilities.

The postponement was made on the request of Sen. William J. Lane (D-Washington) who said he wants to find out why the appropriation is increased from the two million dollars approved in 1953 to begin the project.

The refunds are up to two percent of the original cost of facilities built under the commonwealth's clean streams law since 1937.

COLLECTOR COLLECTS

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — An employee in the city assessor's office, checking on a delinquent tax record, came across a report on his boss, City Assessor Bert Zuercher, who checked into the record and, sure enough, found he had neglected to pay a personal tax of $3.24 for the last half of 1951. With penalty, the amount due was $4.18. Zuercher paid up.

MODERN BABIES GROW BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Planning a nursery for a new baby? If so — better think in terms of giant steps, not baby ones. Modern babies are growing by leaps and bounds, and the teeny cherub at birth may be a king-size infant at 2 months.

Pediatricians and government statistics bear out this point. Junior used to be content to call the small bassinet home for at least 6 months. Nowadays he's likely to want to stretch his arms and legs into bigger quarters by 6 weeks.

Industry is coping with the problem. One of the country's largest manufacturers of baby items, 31-year-old Elliot Mover, (president of Bunny Bear, Inc.) explains:

"Salesmen are demanding larger sizes in everything, although it didn't occur to me to reason why. We've increased the standard bassinet pad size from 12x27 to 15x30. We've made a giant-size car bed and carry crib 15x46 and our high chair pads have been redesigned for larger contours."

Mover believes Western babies must be bigger than Eastern babies judging by orders for equipment.

Gads About

Baby has become a gadabout too, creating more of a demand for travel equipment. So when Mom shops for it, versatile pieces will pay off. A fold-up crib that can go from nursery to porch to car to beach to grandma's house is just one of 250 items.

Variations of the portable crib which Mover says is the most popular baby item are being used on steamships alongside steamer chairs for seagoing infants.

Fashion-conscious mothers will find new colors and styling for baby's nursery and outdoor equipment. There are French Provincial and canopy beds as well as modern tubular steel coated to resemble wrought iron in gay 1955 colors, although blue is still the favorite baby color. Yellow is runner-up while white with gay print is number three. Pink is fading as a nursery color. Red is a big choice for trim on many items.

Special Gadgets

Active babies are being wooed with car seats that have chin-up bars for a real workout enroute. A gadget for junior co-pilots is a steering wheel with simulated dashboard to distract babies who kibitz the driver. A hip-hiker originally designed by comedian Jerry Colonna is for mothers who like to stroll with baby at the hip.

The car bed, which Mover says his father invented in 1924, has gone modern too. It now harmonizes with car colors or you may have a choice of color combinations to match car upholstery.

When purchasing baby items be sure to observe safety factors. Will the high chair lock securely? Is the filler in the bumper pad safe in case he should take a notion to chew it? Are colored gadgets lye fast?

Get the best mattress for baby you can afford, suggests Mover who as a youngster was used by his father as a guinea pig to test

SOULS ROUNDED UP BY RANCHERS

By The Associated Press
SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—"Gotta big roundup set next weekend," drawled the old cowboy. "We want a thousand this time."

It wasn't cattle the Texas rancher was talking about rounding up, but souls to be saved in fellowship at a unique Business Men's Bible Class held in this sheep ranching center of West Texas.

Each Sunday morning, ranchers from as far away as Ozone and Junction join local businessmen at the Cactus hotel for "Chuchwagon Coffee," a prayer, a song and a sermon.

When the class was founded 25 years ago, its members were almost all ranchers from the big sheep spreads. Now, a good percentage of the 1,900 members still ranch. But some of the early members have started similar meetings in other West Texas cities.

Informal Session

The class has all the informality of a ranch roundup chimefest. It's interdenominational and the membership comes from an area about the size of Massachusetts.

Once a year, during the rodeo here, the class holds a "Ranchman's Day." That's when the hotel adds the proper atmosphere in decorations to go with the old Wild West theme of the city. But it's baby mattresses. Cheap pads get lumpy making youngsters irritable as well as unhappy, throwing their bodies out of alignment, he says.

It is fashionable to teach Sunday School these days. Lots of young people look forward to spreading The Word each week. Movie actress Gale Storm finds that "teaching Sunday School can be a very rewarding experience" although Gale confesses that at first she was afraid her young pupils just came to stare at a movie star.

If you do teach young people at these classes, try to make the meeting interesting instead of dutiful. One Sunday School teacher, Christine McLaren of Des Moines, Iowa, hit on a wonderful idea which paid off in many rewards to her.

She had been thinking for some time about doing a Biblical map to bring the ancient world out of the Bible in simplified form. Then one day she decided a wall mural would be one way to improve the run down wall of a basement church hall where Bible lessons were given. It would not only improve the wall, she reasoned, but it would fascinate the young people.

10 gallon hats and boots every Sunday for a good chunk of these Sunday School members.

Charley Poulter, who leads the class in singing, founded the Bible Class with his brother, George, and two other men. Twenty-four class presidents since 1928 have been connected with ranching.

An annual class project is a summer barbecue, and the guest speaker at this occasion has ranged from an All-America football player to a United States senator.

The wall had never been painted so Mrs. McLaren really labored with a brush that soaked up her paint on the rough plaster as fast as she put it on. Brushes wore out and sponges took over.

Seven Panels

Her idea was so successful that now the Bible map appears in wallpaper form for others to enjoy. There are five panels of the Old Testament and two of the New Testament, panels being 27 inches wide with a design 60 inches long on 10 foot strips in washable and scrubable wallpaper — enough to enhance a pretty big room.

Many ideas can perk up Sunday School classes while religious messages are sandwiched in.

One suggestion for the occasional after-Sunday-School social might be to use the new religious paper table napkins. These are printed with Grace-before-meals of various religious reminders.

Just in time for National Sunday School Week (sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee with the theme: "Sunday Schools: The Root-Strength of Our Nation's Youth") are miniature statuettes of Jesus, the 12 apostles, Judas, St. Paul. These are three inches high detailed of plastic resembling ivory, and might make interesting exam prizes for the pupils.

Also on the religious beam is

Camera News

By ROBERT A. WANDS
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A basic photographic rule that is ignored by many photographers involves foreground interest for their pictures. Whenever possible, some object should occupy the foreground of any photograph that can be classed as an overall shot, or general view. This does not mean that the center of the picture should be hidden by a "bathroom mirror face," or dominated by a tree of other large object, hiding the very detail that the photographer desires to record. Actually the foreground interest should frame the picture, occupying roughly no more than one third of the negative size, without hiding any of the important detail that originally inspired the photographer to unfold his camera.

There are many ways of achieving this effect. Generally by moving in closer to the subject; sometimes by moving farther away to include a tree or fence, or by placing some object or persons in the picture. A higher or lower camera angle might be the key to making a picture that will be viewed with interest, or produce the commonplace picture that is passed over quickly when shown to your friends.

Vacation pictures will look far better if the family or friends are used as foreground interest. Most pictures seem to be made with the folks looking right into the camera. If you want pictures of the family, make a portrait or a group, but if you intend to show them on their vacation, arrange them informally at one side of the scene as if they actually are interested in the scene instead of the photographer.

Children Play

Children might be playing in the foreground. They could be walking toward the scene with the camera showing their backs. If you have just visited an interesting building or place, show the family walking away. Picture them in action, doing the things they actually do. With less effort than arranging a group picture, you can get foreground interest in your photographs that will help you relive many of the vacation's pleasant moments.

Naturally, as with all photographic rules, there are exceptions, but generally, pictures will be improved by the use of foreground interest, whether it be at the top, bottom, or the sides of the picture.

The average passenger on the New York subway rides 7.5 miles.

RUSSIA SAYS SHE WILL SEND OUT SATELLITE

By EIGEL ANDERSON

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—A top Russian scientist said Tuesday Soviet Russia will create an artificial earth satellite within two years and quite possibly will launch it in 1957.

The scientist, Prof. Leonid I. Nevod, thus implied the U.S.S.R. might get the jump on the United States in this branch of space experimentation. He told a news conference, further, that the Soviet device probably will be of a "much greater size" than the one the United States expects to send up in 1957-8.

President Eisenhower announced the United States project last Friday. Scientists said the American device probably will be the size of a basketball.

Scientists Convene
Satellite and satellite were the major words in conversation at the Sixth International Astronautical Congress here Tuesday. Sedov heads

Youngster Drowns In Swimming Pool

BLOOMSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Six-year-old Joseph Bartos, Jr., of Atlas, Northumberland County, drowned on Monday in a swimming pool. A certificate of death due to drowning was issued by Columbia County Coroner S. Earl McHenry. There were no witnesses to the drowning. The child was left alone for a few minutes by his mother on a sliding board at Ideal Park swimming pool near Bloomsburg.

The Soviet delegation.

Scientists from 18 countries attending the meeting of persons interested in space travel praised the initiative of the United States in planning an earth satellite project. And some of them made it known they believed satellite planning is the next major step.

A satellite, they explained to the uninformed, would be a body circling around the earth at an altitude of about 250 miles. A satellite would be remote-controlled, travel higher and eventually visit other planets.

The experts in such matters say the chances are that the first spaceman to leave the earth will travel by satellite.

VACCINE WILL STOP IVY POISON

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania has announced that tests on a new vaccine for the prevention of poison ivy have proven successful. Thousands of students and other volunteers submitted to a series of injections intended to desensitize them to the vine.

Dr. Donald M. Pillsbury, professor of dermatology at the university's medical school, said that in every case the new vaccine "reduced the individual's sensitivity to the plant. Many persons became completely immune."

Dr. Pillsbury, one of the nation's authorities on skin diseases, said "there is absolutely no question the vaccine will reduce sensitivity to poison ivy."

He said the vaccine was made from a chemical known as penta-decatechol, a derivative of catechol. The chemical occurs in the form of colorless crystals soluble in cold water. It has been used previously in ointments as an antiseptic.

The new vaccine is administered

Paris Owner Recalls Renoir Collection

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A valuable collection of Renoir paintings has been returned to its Paris owner from the Philadelphia Museum of Art—and a recent theft of one of the paintings may be partly responsible.

Horace Jayne, vice director of the museum, said Monday a collection of 51 Renoirs was recalled by Pierre Gagnet, Parisian collector, a month ago.

The stolen canvas was "Head of a Young Girl," painted by Renoir in 1915 in Cannes, France. The theft took place in a small room in the main picture gallery. The frame had been turned to the wall, the retaining nails removed, and the canvas, 10 inches wide and 12 inches high, slipped out.

Intramuscularly. About six injections were given each volunteer. Dr. Pillsbury said part of the work remaining to be done is to determine the minimum dosage that can be given to the individual to desensitize him.

Dr. Pillsbury said that "we do not know how long this desensitizing will last."

FEPC BILL GOES TO CONFERENCE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House was ready Tuesday to name two Democratic lawmakers to a six-man conference committee that will try to work out a compromise to the Senate amended fair employment practices bill.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger, Democratic floor leader, recommended Reps. Herman Toll (D-Phila.) and J. P. Moran (D-Allegheny) for the posts after the House declined to go along with Republican Senate amendments.

On a voice vote along party lines, the House, on a motion by Readinger, refused to concur with the amendments on Monday, thus sending the bill to the conference committee.

The major chance in the administration-backed House-approved bill would prohibit job discrimination because of an applicant's age as well as the original bases of color, creed, race and national origin. "We Democrats want age treated in separate legislation," Rep. Charles C. Smith, House GOP floor leader, said he knew persons aboard struck an embankment and sheared off a landing gear when it arrived at Broome County Airport Monday.

No one was injured seriously. The Martin Mainliner, with 31 passengers and a crew of three, bounced several times and skidded about 500 feet along the runway but remained upright.

One woman, not identified, was said to have suffered scraped and bruised shins.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration began an inquiry to learn the cause of the accident. The plane, bound from Louisville to Boston, had stopped at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Williamsport and Scranton.

Passengers said Miss Joy Ufford, the hostess, led them out through two emergency doors in the side near the nose. The regular exits on the underside near the tail were blocked.

TODDLERS HAVE PREFERENCES IN FOOD TASTES

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Toddlers have definite ideas about food. By the time youngsters are two years old they don't mind registering this fact in no uncertain terms. Make sure you respect your youngest generation! There's no reason why adults should be the only ones entitled to likes and dislikes; preschoolers have the right to discriminate, too.

If your youngster doesn't like one vegetable, don't try to make him eat it. Serve him other vegetables that he does like. There are lots from which to choose.

When you offer the junior foods that come in convenient containers, all ready to eat, give them a grown-up look. Toddlers are definitely out of the babyhood stage and they like mom to appreciate their new stage of development.

Runabouts usually like "meat pies" served in individual casseroles and they are easy for mother to prepare. Just like the bottom of an individual baking dish—a big custard cup does fine—with mashed potatoes and add a layer of junior meat. A topping of mashed potatoes, a few dots of butter or margarine, and into a moderate oven the dish goes until it is hot and temptingly browned. Sometimes junior vegetables may be mixed with the meat.

Love To Pour Milk
Toddlers love to pour their own milk from a small pitcher. They also take kindly to milk shakes. Make the milk drink by beating egg, milk and strained fruit dessert together. The strained fruit dessert is a mixture of apricots, pineapple juice, orange juice and sugar. Tapioca thickening helps make it a pleasant consistency. Baby food strained apricot-applesauce is another good flavor for a milk shake.

Ever notice how much toddlers like colorful food? The golden color of the strained fruit dessert or the apricot-applesauce appeals to them. So does milk colored pink. And odd as it may be to an adult, small fry often go for mashed potatoes that are colored green. One nursery school serves green mashed potatoes—not too violent shade, please—in little nests that are filled with creamed ham.

Go slow when you are introducing a toddler to a new food. One new food at a time should be the rule. And use a little guile! Introduce the new food on a menu that's made up of old standbys that the youngster particularly likes.

Food That's Fun!
Youngsters always appreciate food that's fun! They welcome custard pudding that has raisin eyes, a prune nose and cherry mouth. They love animal cutouts made from slices of bread. The cutouts can be toasted and floated in a bowl of soup; or they can be buttered and spread with junior applesauce and brown sugar.

Snacks are important to toddlers. Crisp vegetables to eat out of hand and small glasses of tomato juice they can pour themselves are fine for mid-mornings. A few plain crackers spread with peanut butter or cottage cheese mixed with chopped raisins may also be offered. An afternoon tea party might include a mold of gelatin served with strained fruit dessert as a sauce and milk to drink.

Make servings small for toddlers. A plate heaped with food is discouraging. It's better to let them ask for seconds.

SHAMPOO CAN HELP YOU TO LOVELY HAIR

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Shampoo your way to beautiful hair. This is the age of the home-made coif, simple and casual. You can have a lovely hairdo with a little pin-cur know-how. Strive for the spun-silk topknot look this season.

Hair should sparkle after a proper shampoo. The lack of crimp brings out the natural sheen of your locks. Damp-dry your hair with a turkish towel, pin-curl the ends for a completely casual hairdo to put you in the charm girl bracket.

Many experts disagree on the advisability of washing the hair oftener than once a week—something to do with washing valuable hair oils down the drain. Many models wash their hair two or three times a week with no apparent injury to hair or scalp, but once a week would seem often enough for the average person unless you have unusually oily hair or live in a soot-laden area.

Work up a good soapy hair lather in the shower or basin—pour a little shampoo in the palm of your hand rub it into your wet head. Rinse with plain water. Apply another soaping. Rinse again with plain water and your favorite rinse. New shampoos lather richly even in hard water without special rinses, however.

Lemon And Vinegar
Lemon-diluted water is a good rinse for blondes, vinegar is favored by many brunettes. Wine vinegar poured over the head gives brunettes and brown haired types reddish highlights. Blonde hair can be made to look lighter by washing it in the sunshine which sometimes bleaches it.

Many dark blondes become real bleached blonde types by the end of summer merely by drying their hair in the sunshine.

A casual wave in your hair, no matter what type of haircut you have, may be achieved this way:

Run the comb down to within several inches of the hair ends, swirling in one direction. Then pin-curl hair ends in the opposite direction.

SIGNS OF LIFE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Bell Auto Sales put up a sign reading "28 Years Dealing on Figueroa Street." The company's neighbor, Press Motor Co., countered with a sign, "63 Years Living on Earth." Back Bell came with a billboard, "You Call This Living?"

HONORED HORSE

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—They held a formal memorial service at Fort Sam Houston for Pat, an Army warhorse who lived to be 45 years old. He's buried on the Post.

MRS. KEFAUVER TEACHES ART IN SPARE TIME

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pretty, red-haired Nancy Kefauver, wife of the Democratic senator from Tennessee and 1952 presidential aspirant, has rented a small studio with an artist friend and is teaching painting to a few children and adults.

The senator's wife, mother of four youngsters, is a talented artist whose work has been exhibited on numerous occasions in the capital. She says she took on the studio, so she'd have a place to slip into and work a few hours whenever she found the time, "without worrying about the kids knocking over the turpentine." The teaching is to pay the rent.

There are six adults in one class and an equal number of youngsters in the other class, including the Kefauver's second daughter, Diane, 7. Like the other children, Linda, 13½, David, 9, and Gail, 4, she "loves to paint and paints all the time," the mother says. Mrs. Kefauver studied at the Glasgow School of Art, Paris and London, before coming to the United States.

Shares Studio
Mrs. Marius Fariolletti, wife of a government tax expert, with whom she's sharing the studio and the teaching, was her "first friend" when she came to this country. They met in Chattanooga, a year before her marriage to the senator.

"I've always painted when I could and Byrd (Mrs. Fariolletti) has been teaching in nearby Virginia and is up on all the interesting new methods," she told me. "I've been doing several portraits and our studio near Dupont Circle is convenient for people to come for sittings."

Nancy, who people said was the senator's greatest asset in his campaign for the presidency, and who has helped him stump his district to win five House and two Senate campaigns, authored a recent magazine article on her experiences. She says someday she might expand the subject into a book.

Native Scot
The former Nancy Patterson Pigott of Glasgow, after a period of mourning for her late father, the knighted American designer of the ocean liner, "Queen Mary," is just

FERGUSONS ARE DEPARTING FOR NEW POSITION

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farewell parties, packing five trunks, and entertaining five grandchildren had Mrs. Homer Ferguson, wife of the new ambassador to the Philippines, getting back on the Washington party scene where she and her handsome husband are popular and much sought-after guests. The Fergusons spend their summers on a farm near McMinnville, near Nashville, Tenn.

"The children just adore it," she told me, "they go boating on the river and have ponies to ride. We all wear blue jeans and go barefoot and swim."

in a state of breathlessness before they left the capital where they have lived during the eight years the Michigan Republican served in the Senate.

"If I live through all this," Mrs. Ferguson told friends, "I'll be able to take anything—even a hurricane." She paused for a breather during the trunk-packing, after having sent the five children of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Belz, of Grosse Point, Mich., sight-seeing. Then she told me she was actually looking forward to going to the Philippines as a "challenging and delightful experience."

Will Miss Friends
"I will miss our many friends in Washington, however," she said.

One of the friendliest and most popular couples in Washington life, the Fergusons will be missed. At one huge ladies' luncheon Mrs. Ferguson was toasted as "the most charming, best loved woman in Washington." At another afternoon party, the envoy's wife wore the beautiful national dress of the country to which she is going, the "terno," fashioned of striped black and gold fabric with delicate butterfly sleeves and a panuelo, or kerchief scarf, to match.

As the embassy in Manila and the official summer residence in the mountains, to which diplomats retire during the extreme hot weather, are furnished, the Fergusons are putting their own household belongings in storage.

Taking Photos

"We are taking only some photographs and bibelots we like with us," Mrs. Ferguson said. "The collection of ivories Homer has collected on his official trips we also are leaving behind. The Philippines are noted for such carvings. It would be like taking coils to Newcastle."

"The eyes are the mirrors of the soul," said light heavy-weight Champion Archie Moore when asked why he continually stared at Bobo Olson before their recent fight.
